Surveyor Makes Historic Landing on Lunar Surface

Pictures Returned By Device

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 1, defying longshot odds against a first-try success, televised earthward today striking photos of the lunar landscape after a seemingly perfect gentle landing on the moon.

The pictures indicated to scientific viewers at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory that the Sea of Storms target area has a relatively smooth, hard surface apparently suitable as a possible descent point for future astronauts.

The successful touch-down, executed precisely as programmed, was viewed as a long stride forward for the United States' Apollo lunar exploration program. Surveyor's rocket braking system is similar to that on the craft astronauts will use for a landing later in the decade.

Broad Plain

A picture series beginning at 5:45 a.m. EDT, using a different TV screen system than that of two earlier batches, showed a broad plain devoid of major features, peppered with either pebbles or pits caused by meteorites. There were several small prominences, and some gouging, as if the surface had been struck by objects from space at an angle.

The pictures showed no damage to the spidery, instrument-jammed, craft 10 feet high and 14 feet in diameter. They showed its feet resting atop the crust — important evidence in view of opinions of some scientists that the surface might be deep dust or spongy lava that could swallow a landing vehicle.

The 620-pound Surveyor planted its three legs firmly on the lunar crust at 2:17:37 a.m. EDT, 63 hours and a quarter-million miles after its launch Monday from Cape Kennedy.

Nasa Confident Over Gemini 9

Trouble Corrected In Relay System; Launch Friday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Dramatically successful with the unmanned Surveyor moonship, but seemingly jinxed in getting men off the ground, space officials felt confident today that Gemini 9's two dismayed astronauts finally will rocket skyward Friday.

Twice, Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan have donned their flashy space suits and climbed aboard their waiting spaceship; but, twice, they've gloomily taken the slow elevator ride back to the ground.

They get another chance Friday at 9:39 a.m. (EDT) to set out on their 70-hour flight including satellite rendezvous and 2½-hour space walk after a frustrating two-day delay.

Engineers pinned the blame for the scrubbed Gemini 9 flight Wednesday on a faulty signal relay system. It kept a guidance command from reaching a black box for electronic translation to the spacecraft.

Faulty parts were replaced and preliminary tests indicated the problem had been solved.

However, flight officials still aren't certain a protective shroud around the docking apparatus on one end of the stub-by, bottle-shaped line-up target separated as planned once in orbit.

U. S. Planes Continue to Hit Targets in North Viet Nam

Massive Raids Concentrate on Red Antiaircraft, Missile Sites

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. planes hammered North Viet Nam in massive raids for a third consecutive day, concentrating once again on antiaircraft and missile sites. They also made a spectacular strike on a 20-truck Communist supply convoy, U.S. military headquarters reported today.

The heavy air raids Wednesday were carried out at a cost of three more American planes, raising the number of U.S. aircraft shot down over North Viet Nam to 254. One pilot was rescued.

Six Planes Downed

Six planes have been shot down by the Communists since Monday when a break in the weather enabled the United States to step up the air offensive against North Viet Nam.

U.S. ground forces in South Viet Nam made light, sporadic contact with the enemy Wednesday.

U.S. casualties dropped last week, the U.S. command reported, while those of the South Vietnamese and the enemy remained about the same.

The casualty report for the week ending May 28 listed 87 Americans killed in battle, 605 wounded and two missing. The week before there were 146 American dead, 820 wounded and no missing.

The casualties brought the number of Americans reported killed in battle since Jan. 1 to 1,705 by unofficial tabulation, the number of wounded to 10,836, and the total American dead in the Vietnamese war to 3,553.

A government spokesman said 240 Vietnamese troops were killed and 55 missing or captured in the week. For the previous week, 236 Vietnamese were reported killed and 84 missing or captured. Government wounded are not disclosed.

Australian, South Korean and New Zealand forces reported three battle deaths and six wounded.

The allies reported 1,173 Communists killed compared to 1,235 for the week of May 22-28, bringing claimed enemy dead for the year to 19,910. The number of Reds reported captured rose to 197 from 91 the week before.

Mother Kills 2 Daughters, Then Herself

MADISON (AP) — A young Madison mother strangled her two small daughters, then took her own life, Dane County Coroner Clyde Chamberlain said Wednesday night.

The body of Mrs. Warren J. Kenney, 25, a graduate nurse, was found hanged in the basement of her home Wednesday afternoon.

The bodies of her two children, Sue Ellen, nine months and Laura Kay, 3½, were found in their cribs.

Chamberlain said after an autopsy that Mrs. Kenney hanged herself after strangling the children with her hands.

The coroner said the woman left a note indicating she was despondent because she felt inadequate as a mother.

Kenney discovered the bodies after returning home from work. He is a real estate appraiser.

5 Die From Gas in Mine

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — Five men were asphyxiated Wednesday night in a soft coal mine near this western Pennsylvania town. Two others escaped safely.

Dr. Robert L. Shaffer, Jefferson county coroner, said the men were working in the Dora No. 2 mine of the Doverspike Brothers Coal Co. when they opened an abandoned working containing "black damp," a miner's term for air without oxygen.

Shaffer said five of the crew of seven working with a continuous mining machine managed to get out but two apparently were unable to flee.

Three of the men returned to try and help their companions, and died.

4 Hanged in Congo Plot to Kill Mobutu

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — A crowd of more than 100,000 looked on today as four Congolese politicians were hanged in Leopoldville's main square on charges of plotting to kill President Joseph Mobutu.

The government declared a holiday for the execution, and the government radio urged a large turnout to watch "the end of those who wanted to overthrow the regime and betray their fatherland."

One by one, the four condemned men stepped barefooted from a military jeep and climbed the step to the gallows under a blazing sun. They wore black hoods over their faces and blue-striped shorts.

The hanging took less than half an hour. Estimates of the crowd ranged from 100,000 to 200,000. There were a few shouts as the trap was sprung beneath the first man, but otherwise the crowd was quiet.

Those hanged were former Premier Evariste Kimba and former cabinet ministers Emmanuel Bamba, Jerome Anany and Alexandre Mahamba. They were arrested Monday and convicted and sentenced by a military court Tuesday after a 90-minute trial.

Her prints will be kept at Hampshire police headquarters, along with 30,000 others — as a memento.

VFW Head Will Take Veterans to Chicago Dinner

CHICAGO (AP) — Sixty-eight wounded Viet Nam veterans and two officials of suburban Mundelein will be taken to dinner tonight by the national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Andy Borg of Superior, Wis., VFW commander, will fly to Chicago to host the excursion to the Camellia House at the Drake Hotel, where singer Kay Ballard will entertain.

The two Mundelein officials, Mayor Richard M. Foss and Ralph Shields, township assessor, said the veterans were denied seating for an ice show last Thursday in the Conrad Hilton hotel.

After learning of the incident, Borg threatened to cancel the VFW's national convention at the New York Hilton in August unless the hotel chain apologized.

State Board of Health and the Committee on Water Pollution, and the Public Service Commission.

The Assembly, in a near party line vote, eliminated the commission proposal from the bill.

Instead, it adopted a plan that would shift water quality control duties to the State Department of Resource Development.

In the place of the loan program the Assembly favored creation of a $10 million state fund.

Up to 30 per cent of a municipality's cost of building sewage treatment plants would be financed through the grant.

In another development, legislators, faced with a lengthening session without any expense money, took steps to alter the situation.

The Assembly passed, 68-24, a bill that would eliminate the 110 day limit on expense allowances. The limit was reached last November.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

The measure would allow lawmakers to collect their $15-a-day allowance for the 21 days they have been in session since the limit expired. They would also be able to collect for the remaining days of the spring meeting.

Ban Bingo

Legislative action was completed on a bill that would ban tavern and grocery store bingo games that have flourished since Wisconsin eased its constitutional prohibition on lotteries last spring.

The Senate approved the measure and sent it to the governor, who has indicated he would sign it.

The bill would outlaw games that require a person to go into a store to participate.

Armed Youths Invade Milwaukee Apartment Seeking Revenge

MILWAUKEE (AP) — About 15 youths, some of them armed with weapons ranging from a shotgun to tire irons, invaded an apartment building here Wednesday.

Police said the youths were apparently seeking a tenant the gang believed was responsible for damage to a car on Tuesday.

Tenants telephoned police, arrived before any serious incident developed.

Cuban Store Selling More Militia Uniforms

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Castro government store has sold more than 5,000 militia uniforms since last weekend, Havana radio reported Thursday.

The martial togs are being bought by militiamen involved in defense preparations. These have been given new emphasis in Cuba since shooting incidents at the boundaries of Guantanamo Bay Naval Base, occupied by U.S. forces under lease from a previous Cuban government.

The store — once widely known as the privately operated "El Arte" tailor shop but now nationalized — stays open to midnight daily to accommodate uniform purchasers, said the Havana broadcast monitored here.

Wild Jubilation

Balaguer Claims Victory Over Bosch

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Amid scenes of wild jubilation, headquarters of conservative Joaquin Balaguer claimed today a smashing victory over former President Juan Bosch in Dominican elections which are likely to open a new page in this island nation's history.

Dr. Jose A. Quesada, private secretary to the Reform party candidate, predicted that Bosch, standard bearer of the Dominican Revolutionary party, would be beaten by a 2-1 margin when all returns are in.

A heavy vote piled up in the conservative-minded rural areas for Balaguer, who served as vice president under dictator Rafael Trujillo and as president after Trujillo's assassination.

The vote was interpreted by some observers as a protest in general against the sort of violence which erupted in civil war and U.S. military intervention last year and a longing for tranquility.

Even in Santo Domingo, Bosch's stronghold when he won by a landslide in 1963—only to be ousted by a military coup seven months later—Bosch was badly hurt. He failed even to capture one area in the heart of the section held by armed rebels in the nation's civil war.

A third candidate, Rafael F. Bonelly, was far behind.

Favor Bosch

Pre-election forecasts had generally favored Bosch in a tight race. The 57-year-old professor-politician's Dominican Revolutionary party had the support of leftist elements.

Bosch became the country's first democratically elected president by a landslide in 1962. Balaguer, vice president under dictator Rafael Trujillo, was the candidate of the Reform party. He served as president after Trujillo's assassination.

The central issue in the election seemed to be the restoration of democratic rule in a nation which had only seven months of it in the last 36 years.

UW-Northeast to be 4-Year Campus by 1975

Report by CCHE Subcommittee Claims Commuter School Could Not Serve Area

BY TIM WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

RACINE — The University of Wisconsin Northeast will be a four-year institution on one campus by 1975 the plans and policies subcommittee of the state Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CCHE) said Wednesday

Meeting at Wingspread home of the Johnson Foundation the subcommittee accepted a staff report of plans on the development of the campus which will be submitted to the full CCHE today The policy statement has been prepared as a report to the State Building Commission to be made on June 15 The plan which includes consideration of the developments of a state campus in southeast Wisconsin is necessary to gain release of $400 000 appropriated for developing the two institutions

The report predicts that by 1975 the first and second year instruction now being conducted at the Green Bay UW Center will be discontinued and the center structure devoted to new extension education and public service uses

Centers Would Continue

All other centers in the Fox Valley area would be continued according to university plan for the northeast Wisconsin development

Both schools will hopefully be opened to students in 1969 according to the documents and from three to five years after that time it is hoped the nearest freshman sophomore centers to the two institutions can be consolidated with the third and fourth year campuses The original CCHE timetable called for opening the NEW campus in 1969 to be followed two years later by the SEW campus

Legislation authorizing the new campuses so far has dealt only with third and fourth year centers and not with complete four year campuses

Not Efficient

Harry Spindler a CCHE staff assistant told the unit that experiences of Michigan in attempting to operate a third and fourth year campus separate from a freshman sophomore center shows that it cannot be done efficiently This would be especially true he indicated considering the aim of the northeast institution to slow enrollment increases of state universities in Madison Oshkosh and Milwaukee

Enrollment at the new school in northeastern Wisconsin the report predicts will include about 6 000 juniors and seniors on the campus by 1975 No freshman sophomore estimates for that campus were made but it was indicated that the nearby centers will probably have about 6 800 underclassmen at that time

Creation of a four year institution will make higher educational opportunities more attractive to prospective students at the two sites and should aid in speeding enrollments once the consolidation is made the paper says

Housing Needed

The northeast school must expect to house at least two thirds of its students in public or private housing units near the campus the report again stressed The CCHE had made that point in an initial study paper last fall

No matter where the NEW school is located it will be impossible to serve the area effectively on a commuter campus basis the new study indicates Also important are the desires of prospective students to experience living away from home it said This also will tend to lessen the commuter college tendencies of any NEW campus the report said

Eventual use of the present freshman sophomore center would be devoted to adult educational programs and developing labor extension programs both CCHE and UW spokesmen indicated

Possible Uses

The building probably would not be suitable as an addition to the Green Bay Vocational School but would be highly useful in other university programs they said

Delete from the report at the suggestion of CCHE chairman former governor Walter Kohler Jr were sections devoted to future plans for research and regional development activities at the new institutions

He called the sections unnecessary at this time and said that the State Building Commission would be appalled by them and might send such considerations back to the Legislature

That would delay developments by at least one year he said

Kohler urged that the committee not try to solve problems that are not before us now

Campaigns of Senior Democrats Stir Interest

By WILLIAM T PEACOCK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bankers builders and business men have a particular interest in this years Senate elections in Virginia Alabama and Illinois

Involved in the contests are the three top Democrats on the Senate Banking Committee All appear to have hard re election fights

Sen A Willis Robertson 79 chairman of the committee is engaged in Virginia in a slugging primary campaign with William B Spong 46 a state senator from Portsmouth, Va The primary is July 12

Sen John J Sparkman 65 who is next in line for the chairmanship already has won the Democratic nomination in Alabama But in the cross currents of emotion in that state the Democratic nomination is not the assurance of election that it has been for years Four years ago Democrat Lister Hill of Alabama won re election by only about 6 800 votes

Alabama Republicans

Alabama Republicans will choose their Senate candidate in a convention July 29 The expectation is that the nomination will go to John Grenier of Birmingham former executive of the Republican National Committee

Sen Paul A Douglas 74 who ranks behind Sparkman in committee seniority, already is campaigning vigorously in Illinois against his expected Republican opponent, Charles H Percy

Percy, 46 ran for governor two years ago but was defeated in the Democratic landslide of that presidential election year He is a former chief executive of Bell & Howell Co

In addition to legislation dealing with banks the Banking Committee handles a variety of other business legislation Housing matters come under its jurisdiction It would handle wage price control measures if world developments led Congress to consider them

Major Chairmanship

The chairman of the committee as is true of any major congressional committee has great power Particularly he can expedite or delay consideration of specific bills

For instance Douglas has been trying for years to get enactment of a law requiring that installment purchasers be given more complete information on finance charges

He argues they often are misled For example a 4 per cent financing charge commonly means 4 per cent a year on the original amount of financing although the amount owned is constantly reduced by monthly payments

Douglas bill once came out of a subcommittee which he headed but the full committee sent it back there Robertson opposes the bill

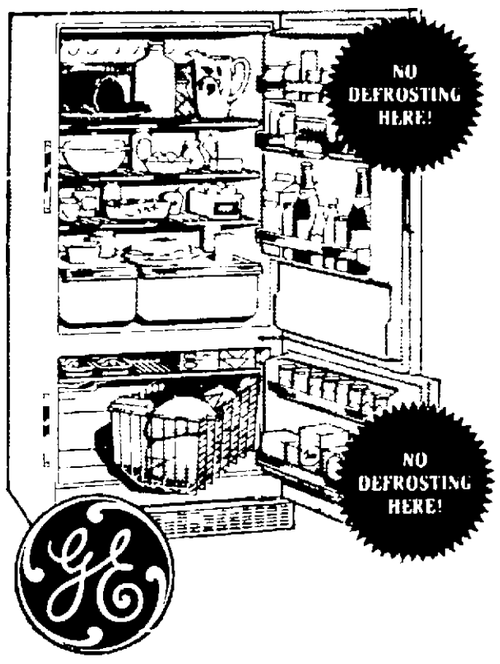

In the Virginia primary there have been suggestions from the Spong camp that bankers are putting money into Robertson s re election campaign

Robertson took note of them by saying he had received volunteer contributions from many bankers but had not asked campaign contributions

In the highly improbable event that Robertson Sparkman and Douglas all were defeated Sen William Proxmire D-Wis would be in line for committee chairman

Appleton Aldermen Urged To Speed Annexation Plans

MacDonald Asks Study To be Started

BY WILLIAM C CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A southwest side alderman urged the Appleton Council Wednesday night to put more push behind much discussed plans for initiating whole-scale annexations to the city

The inquiry by Ald John MacDonald (7th) was one of several major items dumped into the council hopper under the heading of new business as the council wrapped up a four-hour meeting

Others related to —The progress being made by the city s land negotiation committee on bargaining for the rest of the property needed for the proposed Soldiers Square parking structure It is behind schedule

Urban Renewal Unit

—A proposal to create a special urban renewal committee which would make recommendations and establish the framework for Appleton becoming involved in central business district redevelopment

—Exploring the possibility with the Outagamie County Board of having a portion of the old county airport property designated as a future industrial park

MacDonald inquired as to the status of the annexation study authorized by the council sometime ago and was informed by Mayor George Buckley the project is dormant because a request for federal funds was denied

Cites Importance

"I believe this annexation question is extremely important to the City of Appleton," MacDonald said as he made a motion to have the status of the city s annexation plans reopened

MacDonald asked the city plan commission which apparently has taken no action since notified the $2 150 request for a federal grant was tabled by a federal agency to reactivate its annexation proposals

The cost of a study pinpointing areas which should be annexed setting a time schedule and recommending how to proceed — would be $6 450 It would take four to six months to complete.

May Revise Thinking

While federal officials said Appleton s request was not on the priority list at this time, they said the new fiscal year begins July 1 and more funds will be available then which could revise their thinking

However, there appears to be growing support for the council to "go it alone" and expedite the survey

The city s comprehensive plan prepared by Harland Bartholomew and Associates St Louis, stated bluntly that Appleton has expansion problems "

It recommends the city—being hemmed in by growing towns taking on urban character —should consider the eventual annexation of a sprawling semi-developed area bounded by U S 41 on the north and west, Midway Road on the south, and Spiel School and French roads on the east

Legal Action Probable

The extending of the city's boundaries in those areas a move which most certainly will provoke courtroom battles as towns move to preserve their boundaries would encompass parts of the towns of Grand Chute Menasha, Harrison and Vandenbroek

MacDonald suggested and the council concurred that a report on the status of annexation

Decisions by Majority Expected From Europe

Increased decision making by a majority of counties and decrease in individual sovereignty are at hand for nations of the European Economic Community (EEC according to Dr L G A Schlichting chairman of the Netherlands Political Science Association who spoke Tuesday at Lawrence University

DR Schlichting professor of political science at the University of Nijmegen told an audience that Europe s post war group approach to economic development atomic energy and defense must be augmented by a new supra national authority if her prosperity and prestige are to be maintained

Dr Schlichting said that unlike emerging nations which start with a political identity and then seek cultural cohesiveness Europe s established cultures must overcome their narrow nationalism and find political regularity '

The process may be painful he said as is evident in France s balk at majority decision making But if you believe as I do he added that the attitude of the French government does not reflect the attitude of the majority of the French nation particularly the intellectuals then it might be best to be patient even though this will be difficult

Dr Schlichting s talk followed the awarding of the university s first political science prize to a senior student Jeanne Schneider, of Chicago, Ill

Council Decides Residency Not Needed to Get City Job

Appleton Considers Hiring Attorney to Assist Geenen

Appleton aldermen waded through a packed agenda Wednesday night and after wrestling with major issues during a committee-of the whole session decided that —Because of the city s heavy legal load it may be necessary to hire a part time assistant city attorney for an indefinite period

—While preference should be given to Appleton residents when filling job vacancies residency should not be a requisite for municipal employment

Role of Committee

—The role of the city s personnel committee in negotiations with various employe unions and associations is too important at this time to abolish the committee

The council noted the fire and police commission s policy of making residency a requirement for employment after the probationary period has been served would not be included in its action

While Alds John MacDonald (7th) and Robert Ebben (9th) contended geographical lines should not be the basis for hiring the best employes available for job openings Ald Glenn Thompson (13th) and John Avers (12th) differed

Issues Warning

Ebben said Appleton should continue to be the leading force in the Fox Valley and warned against antagonizing our neighbors by telling them they can t be hired unless they live in Appleton

And Ald Clifford Radder (16th) said he favored the present unwritten city policy that when outsiders are hired they be given from six months to a year to move to Appleton

Let s not forget that better than 50 per cent of Appleton people work outside the city, Radder said

MacDonald said by barring out-of-city residents for municipal employment he thought the city might have a policy which could backfire during a time of manpower shortages

Hits Geographic Barrier

I would shudder to think that local industry would ever put up a geographic barrier MacDonald said Let s not keep the people out who are capable of doing a good job for us

MacDonald chairman of the personnel committee said he believed that when all things are equal a local applicant for a job should be given preference

He said at last count there were 27 city employes that do not reside in the city No figures were available on the number of public school system employes residing outside of Appleton

Avers said after a year or so on the job an employe should be required to move into the city "These people living outside the city but on the municipal payroll derive their salary from the tax base and should help support it Avers declared

Tews Agrees

Ald Alvin E Tews 9th) said he agreed with the position taken by MacDonald and felt when applicants for a city job have comparable abilities the local resident be given preference

The council voted 12 7 to put the hiring policy in writing

That the full time city attorney has a tremendous work load was called to the council s attention by Ald Roy Pointer (14th) council president who said someone was needed on a

Prepare Ordinance

Appleton Barmaid Controversy May Trigger Fall Referendum

License woman bartenders in Appleton?

Mr and Mrs John Q Public may provide the answer at the polls this fall

Without uttering a word on the subject Wednesday night the Appleton Council voted 12 8 to break with tradition and directed the city attorney to prepare an amending ordinance allowing women to obtain bartender licenses

It represented a temporary victory for the advocates of Appleton women bartenders — who have been banned by verbal policy and municipal ordinance for more than 30 years

5 Request Referendum

However, on the heels of the vote came a resolution from a quintet of aldermen who thought the people should have the final word. It requested a referendum vote on the question at the September election

Authors of the referendum measure referred to committee were Alds Walter Kalata (1st) Orville Strutz (17th) Norman Beyer (20th) Roland Voss (3rd) and Robert Ebben (9th)

In a recent legal opinion requested by the State Industrial Commission Atty Gen Bronson LaFollette said local ordinances barring the issue of bartending licenses to women were legal

Several Skirmishes

During the past two years there have been several aldermanic skirmishes over the controversial issue but in the past the no-women-bartenders bloc has won

Alds R P Groh (8th), Roy Pointer (14th) and Al Stoegbauer (4th) also voted with the minority.

A recommendation of the welfare-ordinance committee which would have issued an operator s license to JoAnne Gail Sonsthagen 725 N Division St ran into a wall of opposition and was ruled illegal

Recommends License

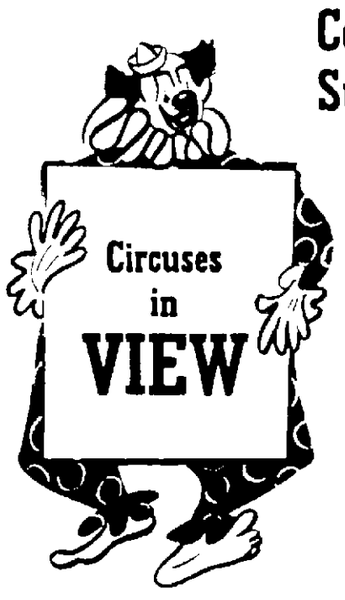

The committee recommended she be granted a license on the basis of the fact that preliminary action had been taken to amend the existing ordinance and eliminate the word "female from the restrictive list

Groh questioned the validity of the committee s action and City Atty David Geenen rendered an opinion it would be out of order to issue a woman a license The request was then referred back to committee

The Outagamie County Tavern League favors a change in the law to permit women bartenders.

Neenah Plans Southward Annexation of 160 Acres

NEENAH — Preliminary annexation proceedings will take place in the next two days to bring in a package of more than 160 acres from the Town of Neenah into the city.

The intention to annex the territory was announced by City Atty. Charles Schaller prior to Wednesday's council proceedings. If the proposed package south of Bell Street is taken into the city, it will mark the largest single annexation in the city's history.

Schaller said he had been contacted by Mrs. Elizabeth Wilms, 1509 S. Commercial St., to speed up the proceedings on 79 acres which she wants to annex to Neenah to benefit from sewer and water services.

She said she intends to develop an 11-acre farm site on Commercial south of Bell as well as 68 acres between Marathon and Aylward streets.

Other Pieces

Several years ago, Neenah purchased a 27-acre tract for school purposes south of Bell adjoining the Wilms farm. The Neenah Foundry has indicated it was willing to annex 10 acres south of its present plant to the city.

The Wilms' property, the city's school site and the Foundry's 10 acres amount to 116 acres.

Schaller said the package also would include land owned by Stone Scrap and Salvage Co., Kampo Transit, and the Nielson property. The total package is 162.9 acres.

Schaller indicated the land west of Harrison Street to the slough could also be taken into the city along with the 116 pledged acres.

Public Works Director Wayne Bryan said the 11-acre Wilms farm easily could be serviced with sewer and water from the existing system in the Southview Plat. However, further study will be needed to provide the services to other parts of the annexed area, he said.

Bryan is expected to meet with Schaller this afternoon to iron out difficulties in the annexation proposal.

Schaller said the area didn't have to be annexed as single family zoning, but could be prior to the completion of the annexation proceedings. The city would then have to permanently zone the area once it is brought into Neenah.

Neenah has annexed a total of 1,432 acres since March, 1951. In the past six years it has brought in 546 acres from the townships, most of it from the Town of Neenah. The total land acreage in the city is now 2,971.

Upper House Backs Strong Labor Drive

Veto Is Overridden On Public Employe Agency Shop Bill

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — A determined power drive of the growing public employe labor organization movement in Wisconsin was defeated by a narrow vote in the Republican controlled State Senate Tuesday as the Legislature's upper house supported Gov. Warren Knowles' veto of a public employe "agency shop" bill.

There were also predictions that the incident will be involved in the forthcoming fight for the governorship, for the union lobby made it clear in repeated tests that it has a majority of the legislature behind it. It's defeat resulted from the fact that a two-thirds vote in both houses is required to overturn a governor's veto. The union gathered the required majority in the assembly, but missed by only two votes in the senate.

The measure that would have permitted agreements between local governments and unions to require public employes to pay fees to unions even if they did not choose to become voting members of such organizations was the culminating goal of the unions' lobby in the capitol that has become more intensive in each recent session.

Supporters of the bill claimed that the right to force contributions from unwilling public employes is a logical extension of laws now providing for such agreements in private employment.

But opponents replied with equal vigor that the idea of forcing contributions from public employes who do not wish to join a union on their own accord would violate the rights of minorities and repudiate the idea of the civil service laws and ordinances which intend public service recruitment exclusively on the basis of merit.

Gov. Knowles, evidently recognizing that his defeat on the question would be the most conspicuous legislative repudiation of his term, reportedly appealed directly to Republican senators to support his veto.

But the local employe unions are reputed to be among the most active and effective in the labor movement, and obviously impressed some legislators with their election day power. Among the regular Republicans who normally can be depended upon by Knowles who abandoned him on the agency shop vote were several veterans whose terms are expiring and intend to run for re-election in the fall.

Highway Commission Starts Construction Work on 4-Lane Stretch on Hwys. 10-114

MENASHA — Major improvements are underway east of here on U.S. 10 and State 114 from Waverly Beach to North Shore Country Club and on 114 from where the two highways divide southeasterly to State 55.

A barn was burned Wednesday as one step in the process of clearing right-of-way for a short stretch of road to be widened.

According to the State Highway Commission office in Green Bay, the two-lane road is to be widened this summer to four lanes beginning at Waverly Beach Corner and continuing east about a half-mile.

Homes and other buildings are being moved. Right-of-way has been obtained, the state office said, to permit future widening as far east as the 114-10 dividing point at North Shore.

For the present, the roadway will be only resurfaced beyond the half-mile being widened in the Waverly area.

The project will cost about $900,000 in state and federal highway funds. Courtney & Plummer, Inc., Neenah, is the contractor.

Bues Holds to Recent Resignation From DPW

Director Tells Appleton Council That Reconsideration Is Unlikely

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues declined Wednesday night to reconsider his recent resignation and will leave city employment July 31 as planned.

Without elaboration, Bues said he was quitting his $13,000 a year post for "personal reasons" and intends to seek private employment.

Ald. Orville Strutz (17th) was one of a group of aldermen who said he hated to see Bues leave the public works post.

"I think it is very unfortunate a man of his caliber has resigned," Strutz said. "I hate to see Mr. Bues go; it will be a big loss to the city."

Strutz pointed to the long list of major public works projects the city has scheduled in the coming months.

"I personally feel we should get him to reconsider," Strutz said.

Ald. Arthur Mueller (19th) followed with a request that Bues address the council to determine whether he would reconsider his resignation.

Resigns With Regret

"I would say at this time that nothing has been brought up that would have me reconsider my action," Bues said. "I am resigning with much regret on my part . . . I don't think I could change my mind."

In his letter, Bues said his leaving was based on a personal decision to seek employment with private industry.

"My appreciation is extended and gratitude is extended to the many citizens, city employes and officials who have worked toward the efficient performance of municipal services and the successful completion of the extensive public works programs during my term with the city," Bues said.

He has agreed to remain on the job until July 31.

In the meantime, the council authorized the hiring of a successor after advertisements are run in newspapers and trade publications. It may take until fall before a new director is appointed.

Assembly Votes $3 Fee Hike for Special License

Legislators Use Low Number Bids As Patronage Prize

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Members of the Wisconsin Assembly groaned loudly this week as a young Milwaukee assemblyman blurted out one of the trade secrets of legislative politics.

The low or otherwise special automobile license number obtainable from the State Motor Vehicle Department, disclosed Assemblyman Frederick Kessler, D-Milwaukee, is one of the few and therefore prized forms of patronage available to the statehouse politician for deserving constituents or loyal campaign workers.

Kessler was objecting to the request of the department to assess a $3 fee, above the regular price, for such special number requests that are granted. But the Assembly in a top-heavy vote endorsed the bill, nevertheless, and dispatched it to the State Senate where its destiny is in doubt. The legislature is expected to recess again soon, leaving many of such measures in mid-passage.

Added Handling Costs

The state department processes thousands of special number requests each year, and reports that the handling of such work entails additional costs. The special fee suggested in the bill turned over to the senate would be $3 a year, without any assurance to applicants that they will be able to buy the numerals they want.

After Kessler's objections, other lower house members protested that "anybody can make an application for such favors, on a first come, first served, basis," an assertion which is confirmed by the department administrators.

But Kessler's apparent meaning was that legislators now find it advantageous politically to intervene for their constituents in such situations, and that the fee assessment would make such favors less impressive to the beneficiaries.

Some capitol sources said the fate of the fee bill in the legislature's upper house may be uncertain because of a long standing custom of automatic issuance of special numbers to the senators. They are eligible, by courtesy of the department, for numbers on their auto plates corresponding to the numbers of their senate districts, if they desire them.

Vocational Schools Seek Site Approval

Assemblyman Martin Sought Four Additional Locations

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

RACINE — The state Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CCHE) will receive a recommendation today that it give provisional approval to a plan for creation of 15 state vocational institutes area districts, despite strong pleas from Assemblyman David Martin (R-Neenah) that a 19 district plan be accepted instead.

The 15 district plan, drafted by a special study committee of state vocational and administrative analysts, was approved by the State Board of Vocational Technical and Adult Education May 24.

Martin, an author of the legislation of the past session, which called for the creation by 1970 of the new districts, each containing a state and locally supported vocational institute, told the CCHE plans and policies subcommittee meeting Wednesday that it was not the attempt of the legislature in passing that law to allow the creation of so few districts.

Travel Distances

Such a low number, he said, would make it necessary for students at the new institutions to either travel long distances to school in some areas of the state, or possibly to be forced to split their schedules from day to day between base and satellite institutions separated by many miles.

He said that the legislature, when passing the district enabling legislation, had been shown a 1963 plan of the state vocational board calling for 20 districts.

He urged that a proposal prepared and then rejected by the study committees which drafted the new plan calling for 19 districts be accepted in place of the 15 area district plan.

100 Miles

The 19 district plan was developed insuring that the length and breadth of districts would not exceed 100 miles. No distance considerations were made in drawing the 15 district plan.

He said that one of the determining criteria used in favor of the 15 district plan was not necessarily important or accurate. The criterion indicated required that an area district have at least 780 full-time vocational school students, generated from an annual high school graduate population of 3,000.

Martin said that university centers had for years thrived on student enrollments considerably lower than the 780 figure, and that the vocational schools should be given a chance that they could as well.

High School Percentage

He added that a figure of 18 per cent of a high school graduates entering vocational school in 1970 used by the study committee might not be accurate as well. The present Wausau and Kenosha schools have enrollment figures considerably higher than that.

He said that additional emphasis placed on vocational education in the future will also lead to higher enrollment averages.

The 19 district plan, he pointed out, provides an adequate tax base for each of the districts, as does the tax base plan for the 15 district system.

The 15 district plan includes schools at Superior, Eau Claire, La Crosse, Madison, Janesville-Beloit, Racine, Kenosha, Waukesha, Milwaukee, Manitowoc-Sheboygan, Fond du Lac-Oshkosh, Appleton, Green Bay, Wausau, and Wisconsin Rapids-Stevens Point.

Added Sites

The 19 district plan supported by Martin includes those sites and adds schools at Rice Lake, Platteville, Marinette, and Rhinelander.

Critics of Martin's views included Joseph Noll of the state vocational board who suggested that even the 15 districts might be too many to insure quality education at the schools. Staffing the institutions will be a major problem he said and perhaps the state can provide only five "comprehensive" institutions such as already exist at Madison and Milwaukee he suggested.

Former governor Walter Kohler Jr., CCHE chairman, pointed out that any committee approval now of the 15 district plan would only be provisional. Changes can still be made, he said, after the completion of a series of public hearings around the state during the remainder of the year to discuss that plan. The committee voted with Kohler to recommend that CCHE give preliminary backing to the 15 district plan.

Policy of U. S. To Red China Guessing Game

Purge of Ten To, Intellectual, Might Be Start of Stalinism

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of American policy toward Red China is a guessing game, including the hope it will change its ways, and now there are rumbles there. But that doesn't mean change, if it comes, will come soon.

That there has been discontent with the present leadership in Red China has been clear for weeks, giving some support to the hope that in time, when younger leaders take over, some of the present fanaticism will disappear.

It is for this reason that so much of American policy toward Red China has been aimed at preventing the Chinese from gobbling up the rest of Asia now.

Last March Secretary of State Dean Rusk put it this way: "It is just as essential to 'contain' Communist aggression in Asia as it was, and is, to 'contain' Communist aggression in Europe."

Dissidents Rebuked

In recent months there have been continued attacks on Chinese intellectuals by the government of Mao Tze-tung. But until now the dissidents have simply been rebuked or downgraded, so far as is known.

Now the Chinese government is attacking Ten To, once its leading spokesman as editor of the official People's Daily There are indications he will be brought to trial and purged.

It might be the start of a far wider purge and thus become a repetition of what happened in Russia under Stalin in the 1930s. He began his purges in 1934, just 17 years after the Bolshevik revolution took Russia.

It's been almost 17 years since the Chinese Communists took control of the China mainland, making it seem that within less than a generation after a Red revolution younger people get fed up with the fanatic old masters.

Beneficial Changes

There can be no doubt Mao has wrought many beneficial changes for the Chinese people since he and his group of lieutenants after two decades of trying seized the mainland.

But the Chinese people have had a tough time on the road to progress. Meanwhile, the Mao leadership has made them hostile to most of the world with anti-Western and even anti-Russian propaganda.

At the same time the Chinese have seen their leadership suffer defeats and rebuffs around the world. They have nothing to look forward to but even more isolation from the rest of the world, including most of the Communist world.

To achieve Chinese magnificence Mao has insisted upon total conformity and acceptance of his leadership. The discontent of recent months shows the leadership is not being accepted totally

Stalin Repudiated

The present discontent may be crushed, just as Stalin crushed it during his lifetime in Russia. He was repudiated by his successors.

It's doubtful that would have happened if the West, led by the United States, had not "contained" Russia through a military alliance which prevented Stalin from grabbing Europe.

This early containment policy also was based on the hope in time Russia might become less aggressive and easier to live with. Rusk expressed the same view about China:

"We must keep firmly in our minds that there is nothing eternal about the policies and attitudes of Communist China. Peking's present state of mind is a combination of aggressive arrogance and obsessions of its own making.

"We have little hope of changing the outlook of these leaders. They are the product of their entire lives. They seem to be immune to agreement or persuasion."

Behind the Iron Curtain—II

Soviet Georgians Aggressive People

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

Second of a Series

TBILISI, South Georgia (AP) — The noise up and down the tree-lined streets in the center of Tbilisi was almost deafening, and people on the sidewalks listened with interest.

From loudspeakers came a roar of cheering and an account of an out-of-town game of the Tbilisi soccer team. It lost 1-0.

"This hurt us very much," said a young man with big sad eyes.

Soccer is the main form of combat now for the people of Tbilisi, capital of a region of the Soviet Union with a violent history of wars and invasions.

This region—a long green valley reaching east from the Black Sea between the two folds of the Caucasian Mountains—is Georgia. Its history began some 2,000 years before a part of this New World was given the same name to honor an English king.

Bigger Than Russia

The 4.5 million people of this Georgia have been called the Texans of the Soviet Union. They talk a bit bigger, act a bit bolder, and seem a bit wealthier than their Russian comrades.

They also are noted as one of the most enterprising of the peoples under communism's theoretically equalizing sway.

Fruit and other fresh produce from this lush southern land somehow manage to be sold at handsome private profits in distant Soviet cities, despite the lack of a legal private trade network. Such scarce consumer goods as cars somehow are more abundant here than elsewhere in the car-starved Soviet Union.

This follows an old Georgian habit of adapting to stronger outside forces and sometimes dominating them. Joseph V. Stalin was a Georgian.

These mountains were on the frontier of the ancient Greek and Roman worlds. They were far enough from the centers of power to be controlled only sporadically but near enough to develop an alphabet for the Georgian language many centuries before Russian was written.

Georgian towns were built around hilltop forts and Christian churches with simple round cupola tops. Tbilisi grew up where a fortress rose over the Kura River and in the sixth century became the capital of Georgia.

The name Tbilisi means "warm" in Georgian, from warm sulphuric springs here. The Russian version of Tiflis was used for a time, but Tbilisi has been restored.

Mountain City

Tbilisi looks like a lot of cities that are pinched into mountain ravines, from the mountains of Wales to northern Italy. Except for the church cupolas instead of spires—and the dull new Soviet buildings, this could be an old central European city with rooftops laddering up both sides of a river.

Down narrow streets that twisted between old buildings was a police-supervised curb market for flowers, pigs, chickens and turkeys. Housewives gathered to look over the private produce and carried it away for dinner.

And then the loudspeakers came on.

Council Urged To Speed Plans On Annexation

activity be presented to aldermen as soon as possible.

Earlier, the council said it anticipated stepped up legal activity for the city and will consider the hiring of an assistant city attorney to handle traffic cases so City Atty. David Geenen can handle all matters emanating from city hall.

Parking Ramp

On another matter tied in with the timetable for reconstructing College Avenue next spring, Ald. Orville Strutz 17th wanted to know what progress, if any, had been made in attempting to purchase properties needed for the new parking ramp.

The council sometime ago indicated intent to use the property bounded by the Soldiers Square, Lawrence, Morrison and Oneida streets for public use but the previous city attorney never got around to preparing the legal document.

As a result, last night the council adopted a resolution of necessity prepared by Geenen which said the city needs the property for a public works improvement.

Strutz asked Buckley, chairman of the negotiating committee, for a report.

Behind Schedule

"We are slightly behind schedule in our negotiations," Buckley said. "We are having trouble arranging appointments with the people we must deal with."

Strutz replied he felt the city should "do everything possible to expedite the purchase of remaining property needed for the structure."

Plans call for construction of the four-level ramp to start sometime this summer with the project completed early next year.

In separate resolutions, which will be deliberated by committees and commissions in future weeks, Ald. Roy Pointer (14th) called for —A meeting with county officials to discuss the possibility of establishing an industrial park complex in the old airport property north of the city.

Industrial Park

—Appointment of an urban renewal committee to lay the groundwork for major projects the city intends to undertake in connection with the central business district overhauling within the next few years.

Pointer, noting the city lacks large sites for industrial construction expansion of existing and new plants considering Appleton, felt the airport property should be given top consideration.

With regard to his proposed urban renewal committee, which would be advisory, Pointer indicated it could do the spadework for the eventual creation of a redevelopment authority, the latter a federal requirement and clearing house for aids for renewal, rehabilitation and conservation purposes.

Appleton already has a department of inspection, another arm for qualifying for federal assistance in planning and implementing urban renewal programs.

Rapist Gets 20-Year Prison Term

WAUPACA — Louis W. Schultz, 39, a former Manawa area resident who has been a patient at the Central State Hospital, Waupun, since 1957, was returned here Wednesday and sentenced to 20 years in the state prison at Waupun for a rape offense which occurred in 1956.

Schultz was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Herbert A. Bunde to 20 years for rape and 10 years for breaking and entering a home with the intent to commit rape. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Found Guilty

Found guilty of the charges at a trial in 1956, Schultz was taken to the state prison at Waupun and then to Central State Prison for a mental examination and had been held there until this time. He was paroled from the hospital in December, 1957, but violated the parole and was returned to the institution in May, 1958.

Dr. E. F. Shubert, superintendent of Central State Hospital testified Wednesday that Schultz was competent and could appear in court for sentencing, but was not suited for probation or parole. Shubert told the court that Schultz could be considered a dangerous person.

Schultz was arrested and tried for the Oct. 19, 1956, rape of a Town of Farmington woman. Prior to that time he had a history of several sex offenses, a State Department of Public Welfare parole and probation agent told Judge Bunde.

Schultz was returned to Waupun Wednesday afternoon.

Asks Jury in Trial for Alleged Bad Check

Eugene W. Iris, 41, 531 N. Garfield St., demanded a six-man jury Tuesday afternoon after he pleaded innocent of cashing a worthless check.

County Judge Gustave J. Keller set trial for June 13 and ordered bond of $100.

President Curtis W. Tarr of Lawrence University, left, awards the Chicago Tribune gold medal to Chandler W. Rowe Jr., formerly of Appleton, now of Honolulu, Hawaii, and Richard E. Dyrud, Prairie du Chien, at recent ceremonies. Other award winners shown are Charles Porter Jr., Summit, N. J., Officer's Association award, and Ronald L. Bird, 231 E. Franklin St., the Air Force Times award. The men are all AFROTC cadets at Lawrence.

part-time basis to handle traffic cases.

Pointer said he and Mayor George Buckley conferred with County Judge Gustave Keller who indicated the city cases take up about three days a week on the court docket.

Inherits Partial Backlog

City Atty. David Geenen told the council he "inherited" a partial backlog, explaining there are 75 traffic cases pending, circuit court actions coming up, condemnations pending, along with duties related to actions of the board of public works, land negotiating committee, plan commission and other municipal bodies.

"We've got some big projects in the hopper that require full time attention of our city attorney," Pointer said, "and I suggest this council give serious consideration to obtaining the services of a part time attorney for the time being."

It was conceded Geenen could not handle court cases when he was needed at city hall.

To Study Request

The finance committee was asked to study the request for additional legal help and will make its recommendation at the next meeting.

Tews, who introduced a resolution asking for abolishment of the personnel committee, said he felt some functions of the committee were repetitious and showed up in various council reports.

However, he said there was no intent on his part to drop the committee overnight - that the matter be studied and a gradual phasing out take place over the years.

Alds. MacDonald, Ayers and Ebben noted the personnel committee was presently in negotiations with municipal employe unions and other contracts were up for bargaining in coming months. They felt the committee did a good job last year and continuity was needed.

Tews said now that Appleton has a full-time personnel director, he could assume much of the detail work being handled through committee.

Jerry Rusch, the city's new personnel director, felt the committee was needed to carry on the negotiations and said the phasing out of the group might be considered at a later date.

Tews said he expected the matter will be given considerable study, adding he was not advocating any hasty action.

Larsen Man Held on Liberties Charge

OSHKOSH — Proceedings were set for next Thursday against Victor G. Jeske, 22, route 1, Larsen, who is charged with taking indecent liberties with a 15-year-old girl in the Town of Winchester last August.

Jeske, who appeared in Winnebago County Court branch 3 this morning, requested the postponement to contact an attorney. He was held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The Air Force Times award was given to Ronald L. Bird, 231 E. Franklin St., "for distinguishing himself by contributing materially to constructive public attention for the cadet corps." Miss Marguerite Schumann, director of publicity and publications at Lawrence, made the presentation.

Academic Awards

Charles J. Breitzke, Jr., won the American Legion silver medal for "demonstrated superior academic achievements and demonstrated outstanding qualities in military leadership, discipline, character and citizenship." James T. Davis, commander of the American Legion Post 38, Appleton, presented the medal.

The Harvey Pierre VFW Trophy for obtaining the highest academic average in AFROTC subjects in each class went to: Philip A. Metzger, Prairie Village, Kan.; Lawrence R. Newman, Fox River Grove, Ill.; Michael P. Last, Highland Park, Ill.; and Wayne R. Steinbach, route 1, Menasha. Capt. Richard L. Stewart, assistant professor of aerospace studies, made the award.

Outagamie OKs New Civil Defense Alarm

Board Authorizes Spending $24,000 for Radio System; Replaces Telephones

Approval was given Wednesday by the Outagamie County Board to a radio alarm system for the combined county-Appleton Civil Defense warning network.

By a vote of 43 to 0, supervisors authorized the city-county civil defense committee to accept bids for purchase and installation of the new system, and to transfer $24,000 from the general fund to the Civil Defense fund.

Presently, the siren alarm utilizes rented telephone lines which make up a "land line" alarm system. Howard J. Rathbun, city-county Civil Defense director, says the present system is not "fail safe."

Recently he told the county board's executive committee that there have been problems of interference on the lines which set off false alarms, particularly in the northern and western portions of the county.

Under the new system, radio signals are a key which set off alarms with a special "beep." Rathbun says radio signals would be generated from a designated number of stations to siren receivers. The signals would be dual control and coded.

Application has been made to and approved by the federal government for matching funds to help pay the cost of the new system. The federal government will pay 50 per cent of the total cost. Appleton 25 per cent, and the county will pay the balance.

The resolution approved Wednesday states the radio alarm system will result in savings of up to $20,000 over a 10-year period.

Two supervisors — Walter Fredericks of New London and Eugene Kloes of Appleton — attempted to have the resolution laid over for further study, but their motion was rejected on a voice vote.

Neenah Man Ordered To Central State After Morals Offense Charge

Vernon A. Greshamer, 23, 144 Wright St., Neenah, Wednesday afternoon was ordered sent to Central State Hospital after he was charged with disorderly conduct in connection with a morals offense involving a one-year old girl.

County Judge Gustave J. Keller ordered Greshamer be sent to the hospital after a summary examination was held in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 on a recommendation by Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer.

Judge Keller postponed proceedings against Greshamer indefinitely.

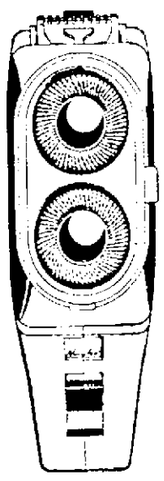

The court was told Wednesday that the alleged offense took place Monday at an Appleton home.

Enlarged Heart Is Not Necessarily Defective

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: You have never written concerning the meaning of an enlarged heart and its causes. I don't smoke or drink. Is there any special way to take care of an enlarged heart? I am 65 and still working. — Mrs. M.E.T.

Dear lady, you must have been somewhere else on the days that I have discussed enlarged heart. It is also described and discussed in my booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," which may be obtained by sending 20 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

An enlarged heart is just what the words imply. The organ is bigger than normal. The principal causes are high blood pressure; disease or defects of the valves (often due to rheumatic fever); or certain vitamin B deficiencies.

Whatever the specific cause, the heart is laboring under some difficulty that forces it to work harder to accomplish its task of pumping blood. Under such circumstances, the heart muscle thickens and enlarges just as other muscles tend to enlarge under continued stress.

An enlarged heart is not necessarily a weak one. It may have enlarged so successfully that it remains efficiently able to serve you well. It is even possible for the original cause of the enlargement to have been corrected in some way, so that although the enlargement remains it does not grow any greater. In other instances it may actually reduce in size.

What to do about an enlarged heart—if anything— depends on the cause of the enlargement. In some instances limiting the amount of physical exertion, to keep the demand for circulation within the limits which the heart can support without too much strain, might be the only requirement.

In the case of high blood pressure, control by adequate rest, diet, weight reduction and certain medications are in order.

There is no do-it-yourself method of evaluating an enlarged heart. Size is best determined by x-ray of the chest. You must leave that to your doctor, and you must look to him, consequently, for counsel on what to do for your heart, if it requires any special care.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it any any use to give a "Pap test" to a woman who had a hysterectomy 20 years ago? And what is malignant hypertension? It sounds like cancer to me. —K.M.

First question: Possibly, yes. The exact form of the operation, and just what was removed and what left in, would have a bearing. Second question: Malignant hypertension has nothing to do with cancer. It is a severe form of high blood pressure.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can sypilis be tranmitted by kissing? Would is show up in a blood test later?—H.D.

Yes, especially if there is some break in the membranes of the mouth. It would show up in a blood test.

Dear Dr. Molner: Are pernicious anemia and pellegra the same?—M.M.D.

No. Pellegra results from a lack of niacin, and is corrected by making up for the deficiency. Pernicious anemia is the result of the system being unable to create a material which is necessary for proper production of red blood cells. It cannot be cured—but giving regular doses of vitamin B 12 makes it possible for the body to operate normally anyway.

Canine Beneficiaries To Get $173,311

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) —The poodles and four kerryblue dogs are beneficiaries of a $173,311 estate left by a Spokane dowager.

Mrs. Columbia W. Steltz left instructions that a suitable kennel be furnished and a caretaker be hired to look after the dogs.

The trust for the dogs ends in 20 years and then is to be distributed to various persons, a church and a hospital.

Property Owners Seek Parking Restrictions Along Alton Street

A group of property owners in the 800 block of E. Alton Street have petitioned the Appleton Council to restrict parking to one side of the street as a safety measure. It is a narrow street.

The petitioners have informed the mayor and council that there is urgency in the request because of increased traffic in the area due to construction of a church, and future construction activity of Lawrence University.

The Junior House Style story for fall is coordinated, with from six to 10 different items composing a look that may vary from dress up to very sporty. At left, a model showed one of the poncho looks during the press preview. Below, the Glen plaid in black and white goes with a number of color complements. The tennis shoes match the plaid. At right, Miss Wisconsin, Sharon Singstock of Oshkosh, joined models to show the Junior House line. She wears the new brick shade that is teamed with a darker cranberry tone for accent.

Coordinated--Head to Toe

Last year Junior House of Milwaukee predicted the success of the pea jacket and the poor boy sweater. This season, at the Heritage Milwaukee national fashion press preview, the firm's president, William Feldstein, voiced the opinion that the pants suit and the shortie skirt will be 'most sought' on the fashion scene.

Junior House showed its fall line on the "Lady of the Lake" paddlewheeler on Lake Geneva. Sheltered from a brisk breeze, the editors were shown not single outfits, but whole groups of go-togethers, including several styles of skirts, usually two jackets, knitted shirts with matching stockings, hats and caps, sweaters and coats. It looks like a coordinated autumn.

Soft Heather

Heather will be used abundantly in the Junior House fall color chart. It is softer than last season, however, with shadings more subtle and meant to complement strong, bright colors. The English heather has actually become a way of life for the young American woman, and to carry it a step further, outfits often sport a 'Mr. Higgins' hat.

Junior House goes along with the prediction that the striped sweater will be big news this fall. They'll be horizontal, vertical and diagonal, and often have matching stockings. Ribbed sweaters will be more fitted than last season, and will come in both short and long sleeves.

BY JEAN OTTO
Post-Crescent Women's Editor

The Trench Coat promises to be a big deal this fall, and many coordinated lines will feature the matching style. This one is in a camel and gray plaid with accents of rust. Also in the line are pleated and A-line skirts and two styles of jacket.

Unusual combinations of cables and ribs will make for exciting lines and textures.

Trench Coat

Arnold Gloss, head of design at Junior House, said that the man-tailored look will be important in coats and jackets. The trench coat is expected to be a leading commodity in fall futures. It has matching hats in visored and 'country squire' styles, and will occasionally have a matching handbag.

Shortie skirts will be strictly for fun, Junior House predicted. They are young and lively and hardly meant for the mature woman. Shorties are not simply shortened skirts. They have a cut and flare that makes them right for sitting and walking, and they need coordinated stockings in either full or knee length to look right. This head to toe coordination is literally that, for Junior House has called upon a shoe manufacturer to make tennis shoes of the same colors and fabrics as these fall styles.

Brick Shade

Brick will be an important fall color, as expressed in the Junior House preview. So will red and black, combined in a big plaid wool. Pewter was another shade shown during the excursion around the lake. Combinations of neutrals — gray, camel and black — looked smart and understated.

The firm voiced the belief that this season — surely by next — women who want coordinated outfits will be able to buy the entire outfit, including hosiery, handbags, hats and even shoes, in a single store department.

Junior House, founded in March 1945, carries out all manufacturing and designing operations in Milwaukee, where three top designers maintain separate design rooms and staffs. Five lines are created each year, for spring, summer, transitional, fall and holiday.

Pure Luxury Is the Reputation that surrounds mink. Although the fur still retains elegance for evening, as shown in EMBA the cape style above, it also has taken on a more sportive flair, with adaptions for after ski. (Post-Crescent Photos by Jean Otto)

New Look in Leather

In 1915, when Robert H. Rolfs started his leather products company, the idea that a billfold could be a fashion accessory was revolutionary. He set up shop in a single room over a store in West Bend and with a staff of one skilled leather craftsman put his ideas into action. A year later, the company had outgrown its headquarters and had established an eastern sales office. Now it has plants in West Bend and Sturgeon Bay, in England, Canada and Puerto Rico.

The leather billfolds and personal accessories Rolfs-Division of Amity Leather Products Co. showed at the recent Heritage Milwaukee are also a long way from the first leather goods with which the company began.

All-Occasion

This fall designs were shown in three categories — casual, classic and late day. The line was shown at the Layton Art Gallery as the student art show got underway.

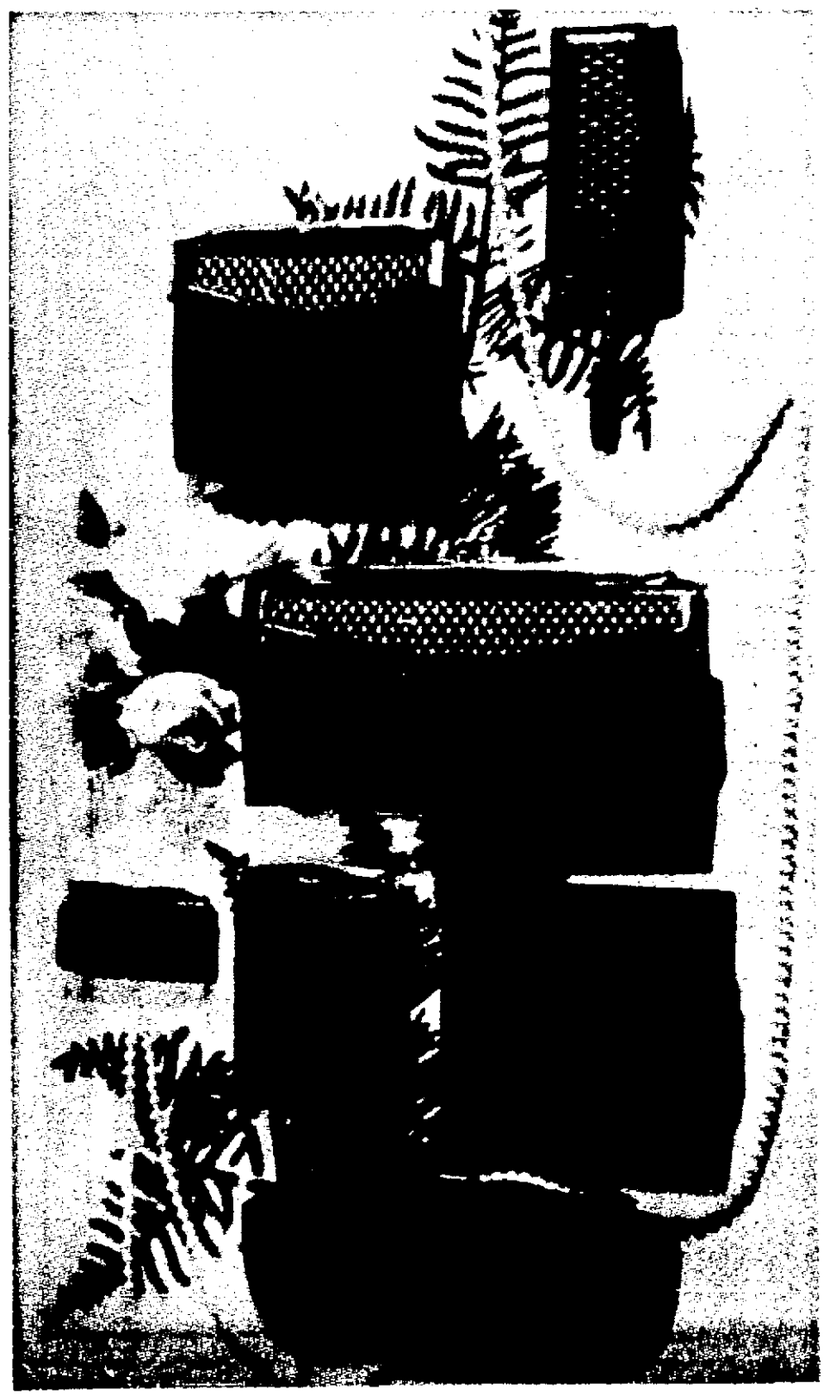

Mr. Rolfs said that leather goods were one of the last commodities to come under the name of fashion, for they have long had the function of utility. Now color, design and surface interest have put them squarely in the center of the fashion scene.

The trend toward more casual living clearly explains the need for leather accessories for sports, picnics, and supermarket shopping. In this line are the pigskins and brushed or buffalo calf. These billfolds, French purses, key cases, glass cases, cigarette holders and lighters speak of the outdoors, of the splendor of the range, of sporty living. The classic line is for the woman who wants only one set, and it is styled to take her right through the day, its simplicity right for anywhere.

Color, Texture

In the late day and later line, color has taken over. There is gold on bronze or green, glitter achieved by a dual embossing of gold on leather, a gold mesh that provides elegant closing touches to simply styled purses. Florentine gold is given the bamboo treatment and combined with a deep red suede.

The French clutch is still the most popular leather accessory for women, although the firm believes this may change as women move to smaller handbags. There is also more emphasis on leather. New this season is the British purse, styled along the lines of the French except that the frame is concealed.

Casual Is the category in which this 'Pine Needle' group was shown by Rolfs-Division of Amity Leather Products Co. at Layton Art Gallery as part of the Heritage Milwaukee preview. The green leather is embossed, with borders of smooth navy leather finishing the design.

Mink Styles Adaptable to Sport or Dress

Mink means the ultimate in luxury, and stylists continue to make it even more so. Showing the fall lines it will introduce in New York this month to members of the national fashion press at Heritage Milwaukee, the EMBA Mink Breeders association added another facet to its interest — adaptability.

Mink may formerly have been a 'strictly for dress' luxury. Not any more. Many of the designs were meant to be worn and worn — with ski togs, with slacks, with a sporty suit or simple cocktail gown, or with satin and lace. Simple little adaptations change the sporty to the elegant.

For instance, an Autumn Haze jacket with wrist-length sleeves, wide collar and narrow leather belt that settles just above the hips, becomes an elegant evening jacket by turning back the sleeves and removing the belt. From apres ski to cocktail hour and dinner in a mink!

The short cape style continues high in popularity, and is especially elegant when banded at neckline and front edge with dark natural ranch mink. The mink stole is also very much alive, and Jack Bouton, EMBA stylist, said there will always be a need for a mink piece that is not a coat or jacket. Stoles this year have adopted a new style technique, a tiered effect with each tier attached separately to the lining for a gentle layered look that combines comfort and glamour.

Notched collars have never been better than now, Mr. Bouton said, and gold buttons are still strong.

Big Part

Perhaps the single most important trend in fur coats and jackets is the leaner styling, the snug look. It is important that the woman, not the fur, winds up stealing the show. The fur should play her up — compliment her. This applies whether the mink is a capelet, stole, shrug, jacket or full coat.

Mel Hansche, executive secretary of EMBA, traced the lineage of mutation mink, which has Wisconsin as its birthplace. The state supplies one-third of the nation's annual seven million mink pelts of all types. Mink is 65 per cent of the fur market.

Mutation mink was recorded for the first time in the late 1930s, on a ranch at Union Grove. Rancers, Bill Whittingham and Charles Whitaker, met with skepticism toward their 'platinum' mink, decided to donate the first pelts to charity. A coat was made up of mutation pelts donated from throughout the country, and sold for $18,000. The first pelts sold to the public in 1943 brought $265 a pelt.

Quality control measures were instituted at EMBA in 1964, with only top quality pelts (about 20 per cent) termed 'Rare Quality' and sold under the EMBA color names.

GOP Charges Some Drafted Because 'Papers Are in Hand'

House Members Push Demand For Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans seeking a congressional investigation of the draft claimed today some youths are inducted simply "because their papers are in hand."

"It is possible," 24 Republicans said in the last of six statements about the draft, "for young men to be drafted for possible combat in Viet Nam because their papers are in hand while the papers for men even more eligible for the draft are 'lost' in a bureaucratic maze."

The Republican group is demanding a full-scale review of the draft.

The GOP statement cited a Selective Service report of last February and said it showed that:

— 73 per cent of the potential draftees in the 1A pool had not been fully examined.

— 118,000 men classified 1A had not even been ordered for examination.

— 280,000 men in the 1A pool were not available for the draft because their papers were stalled between local draft boards and Army induction centers.

The Republicans urged that computer and data-processing equipment be provided for the Selective Service system.

But they cautioned that they were not advocating a decentralized system that would be unable to consider the personal problems of each potential draftee.

New Approach Opened

Indications Point To Cancer Virus

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Two findings that open a new approach toward the elusive goal of finding the cause and prevention of cancer were disclosed today by a medical research team from Columbia University.

The researchers presented the strongest tentative evidence yet that cancers may be started by viruses which then move on to repeat their destructive work in adjoining cells.

Dr. John K. Lattimer, co-chairman of the department of urology at Columbia University in New York, said that virus-like particles have been found for the first time in healthy looking cells lying adjacent to cancer cells in prostate glands. They were not found in the cancer cells.

He said his researchers also discovered that these cells, which appeared normal under ordinary-light microscopes, actually were growing at the "same tremendous rate" as cancer cells.

"The discovery of either condition was unusual, but when they appear in combination it becomes exciting," he said in an interview at the annual meeting of the American Urological Association.

Dr. Myron Tannenbaum, pathologist member of the research team which made the twin discoveries, described the findings and exhibited picture slides at the urologists' convention.

Lattimer, who heads the research project, said "the next step which we're working on now" is to attempt to isolate the virus-like particles. Under the electron microscope the particles are identical in appearance to the Lucke tumor virus which causes cancers in frog kidneys.

Two Venturesome 14-Year-Old boys were tearfully reunited with their parents Wednesday after 24-hours in an abandoned coal mine at Nortonville, Calif. Chris Corso and his father, Angelo, of Lafayette and George Schroeder and his mother, Mrs. Cynthia Schroeder of Walnut Creek, embrace after the youths emerged from the mine shaft they had vanished into Tuesday.

Lockheed First To Seek Out Minorities

6,500 Now Working At Jobs Worth Up to $20,000 a Year

By JOHN LENGEL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In May of 1961 Lockheed Aircraft Corp. was first to sign for the federal government's equal opportunity employment program, aimed at finding jobs for minorities.

"We didn't wait for them to apply, we sought them out," says James Hodgson, director of industrial relations.

Result: Lockheed now reports that 6,500 of its 84,000 employes are members of minority groups — and among the 6,500 there are 2½ times as many in managerial or professional jobs than in unskilled or service work.

Indians, Filipinos, Negroes

To help make its planes, ships, missiles and a host of other things the firm goes after Indians in Washington, Mexican-Americans in Arizona, Filipinos in California, Negroes in Georgia and Alabama.

It says 91 such employes are managers at $10,000 to $20,000 a year; 967 are scientists, engineers or accountants at $8,000 to $20,000, and 4,404 are in such skills as lathe operators, flight mechanics, carpenters, electricians, at $5,000 to $7,000.

Federal civil rights laws can be met by hiring service workers. Lockheed is one of 328 major firms joining voluntarily a federal "plan for progress" to recruit minority workers above the janitorial level.

How does it work?

Lockheed representatives go into minority-living areas sometimes 20 miles from plants, leaving job lists with ministers, slum-area employment offices and such organizations as the Urban League.

School Counselors

High school principals and counselors from slum schools are taken on tours of company facilities, told what's needed, what's available, and urged to spread the word.

Campus recruiters include such Negro colleges as Howard and Tuskegee Institute in their rounds.

Lockheed's industrial union, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, pushes a summer-long apprentice program for skill training. In Georgia, the union has several Negro business agents.

It's Called Comrade

Frigate Follows Trawler Watching Carrier in 'Game' off Viet Nam

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

ABOARD CARRIER ENTERPRISE, Off North Viet Nam (AP) — The Russians and the U. S. 7th Fleet are following each other around in the seas off Viet Nam.

The game is called "Comrade" by the Americans. It's played this way:

A Soviet fishing trawler, equipped with an unusual amount of radar, shows up a few miles from the 90,000-ton, nuclear-powered Enterprise.

Its mission, apart from fishing, is snooping.

It wants to find out how many planes are aboard the carrier, how many are launched each day for attacks against North Viet Nam and any other information.

When the trawler shows up, the word goes round the Enterprise: "Comrade is shadowing us again."

A few miles behind, however, the fast nuclear-powered missile frigate Bainbridge is shadowing the Soviet shadower.

This keeps up for a few hours until Comrade drops out of sight, only to reappear a day or two later.

No guns are fired. No one makes any hostile moves. The ships don't even signal each other.

"They seem to want to be friendly," says Capt. James L. Holloway, skipper of the Enterprise.

"We haven't made any contact with them. They have every right to be here on the high seas.

"But I can't imagine what kind of information they're getting. We've got some of our planes below the flight deck which they can't see. The others we keep in motion day and night so they can't have much of an idea of what's going on.

"They don't bother us and we don't bother them."

Drug Induces Confession Of Murder, Attempted Rape

WASHINGTON (AP)— A U.S. District Court Jury Wednesday heard Walter Lee Parman state in a recorded, drug-induced interview that he strangled Shirley Ann Cary, a State Department secretary, on Jan. 9, 1965.

Parman, 34, formerly of Minneapolis, Minn., was arrested in Los Angeles on Jan 31, 1965, under the alias of George D. Farr. He had been placed on the FBI's list of 10 most-wanted fugitives.

He is charged with murdering Miss Cary, 32, in his Washington apartment and dumping her nude and multilated body in an alley in the city's Cleveland Park area.

Parman, the FBI said at the time he was put on its most-wanted list, had a long criminal record. He moved to Washington in January 1965 from Minneapolis where he has a wife and two children.

Unusual Procedure

Wednesday's hour-long playing of the recording, unusual in court procedure, was done at the request of defense attorneys in support of Parman's plea of insanity.

Parman's detailed description of the slaying was given to a psychiatrist, Dr. Oscar Legault, in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, on Dec. 23, 1965, while Parman was under the influence of sodium pentathol, a so-called truth serum.

Parman, who is accused of killing Miss Cary while attempting to rape her, said in disconnected sentences as played by the recorder:

Disjointed Phrases

"I knocked her down . . . tied her up . . . bit her . . . she wasn't crying . . . conscious . . . most of the time . . . I killed her . . . strangled her with a rope . . . she said just one thing, 'Oh, my god.'"

The statement was played before the jury and Judge John J. Sirica after the government declined to object. Asst. U.S. Atty. Alfred Hantman closed the government's case Wednesday.

Parman's recital was marked by whispers, sobs, indications of being ashamed, of being mean, of being gay, and heavily larded with obscenity.

He told of being with Miss Cary and a girl friend of hers, of drinking with them in a night club that features belly dancers, of the girl friend leaving and of him and Miss Cary finally going to his apartment.

Want Mama

Near the close of the interview, the psychiatrist said: "You've done very well, Walter . . . you'll feel much better now."

"I want my mamma," Parman murmured.

"I know you do, Walter," the psychiatrist said. "Tell me, why didn't you tell all of this to your lawyer before?"

"Such a horrible thing," Parman answered. "I didn't want to admit it to myself."

The defense attorneys indicated they plan to call additional psychiatrists as witnesses.

AEC to Look Again at Sites For Smasher

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A state spokesman said Wednesday the Atomic Energy Commission will return to Weston June 10 to look again at a proposed site for a $375 million atom smasher.

Greeting the delegation will be Gov. Otto Kerner, Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and a team of geology, water and electric power specialists.

The AEC group also will visit Stoughton, Wis., another of the six sites still in the running for the huge reactor, said a spokesman for the Illinois Department of Economic Development.

Among the AEC delegates will be Commissioner James T. Ramey, who was ill when the AEC first inspected the Weston site in April; John A. Derry, director of construction for the commission, and John Harris, public relations director.

Weston is a suburb of Chicago.

Milwaukeeans Demonstrate for Traffic Control

MILWAUKEE (AP) — More than 150 persons, most of them children, demonstrated for more than an hour Wednesday to dramatize a demand for a stop light or pedestrian overpass at a busy intersection.

The demonstration which brought 17 uniformed policemen to the intersection of North Sixth and W. Galena Streets took place during the peak of afternoon traffic.

The demand for the safety devices was prompted by the death of an 8-year old girl in an accident at the intersection two weeks ago.

The intersection is in a predominantly Negro section.

Illinois Guardsmen To Go to Camp McCoy

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — About 11,000 officers and enlisted men from Illinois National Guard Army units will train at Camp McCoy, Wis., for two weeks starting June 25, it was announced Wednesday.

Gov. Otto Kerner will be honored at the camp July 2.

Conference on Rights

Don't Expect Miracles In Fight Against Race Prejudice, LBJ Warns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has cautioned Negroes not to expect presidential miracles in the struggle against racial injustice.

"No national government, however enlightened, can by itself change the conditions of Negro life in America," he told his White House Conference on Civil Rights Wednesday night.

But he brought the 2,400 delegates to their feet with the measured declaration that "we are moving — we shall not turn back."

He pledged "to give my days, and such talents as I have been given, to the pursuit of justice and opportunity for those so long denied that."

Morale Booster

Johnson's unannounced appearance at the conference was seen by many delegates as a morale booster to an event that had limped from the starting line in a welter of parliamentary squabbling.

Discussions of the planning council's 100 recommendations to bring the Negro into full equality in jobs, housing, education and justice resume today at a midtown hotel.

In the last few hours before the conference ends, delegates will have their hard-won chance to vote on the resolutions to be tacked onto the council recommendations in a report to the President.

Effect on Ghetto

It is here that the Viet Nam issue may be injected into the two-day conference for the first time. Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality has promised resolutions "dealing with the effect of the war in Viet Nam on the Negro in the ghetto."

"We have made mistakes," Johnson said in his soft-spoken address. "We will make others for we know our weaknesses. We will arouse hopes as we have already done that cannot be quickly fulfilled.

"Do not expect from me, or any man, a miracle. Do not expect us, even together to put right in one year or four all that took centuries to make wrong."

Divorce From Insane Mate Not Legal

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Circuit Court judge has refused to recognize a Nevada divorce obtained by a Wisconsin man whose wife has been hospitalized since 1936.

Charles Armoville of suburban Glendale obtained a divorce in Nevada in 1964 on grounds of insanity.

His wife, Florence, has been in institutions for 30 years.

Judge Leander J. Foley Jr. said he had no choice but to follow Wisconsin law and void the Nevada decree.

Insanity is not grounds for divorce in Wisconsin.

Armoville said he has paid more than $26,000 to Milwaukee County for his wife's care.

He complained that he was forced "to remain a single man practically all of my lifetime." He and his wife married in 1930.

A legal guardian for Mrs. Armoville challenged the divorce. The lawyer was appointed after the county complained it was not receiving enough money for the woman's support.

Armoville was ordered to pay $174 a month.

Detective Faces Perjury Charge In Kenosha Probe

KENOSHA (AP) — A veteran Kenosha detective has been charged with perjury in the wake of a John Doe investigation here.

Joseph Smolinski, 54, a policeman for 20 years, was charged in a complaint signed by Le Roy L. Dalton, head of the attorney general's criminal investigative unit.

Four other persons were also charged Wednesday, bringing the total number of complaints lodged in the probe to 16. Eleven persons were accused last August of gambling.

Soliuski was charged with making a false statement April 1, 1965 while under oath.

Other persons charged Wednesday were Gene F. Thomas, 38, operator of the Office Lounge bar, Sammy Macy, 37, a former Kenosha bartender, and Angelo Germinaro, 48, a Kenosha bartender, and Peter Joseph Zocchi, 45, also a bartender.

Thomas was charged with perjury, Macy and Germinaro with commercial gambling and conspiracy to commit gambling, and Zocchi with commercial gambling.

All four persons were released after posting bond of $500 each.

Electrical Workers Strike in Watertown

WATERTOWN (AP) — Members of the Electrical Workers Union 494 struck the five Lindberg Hevi-Duty and Hevi-Duty electric plants here Wednesday after rejection of the company's latest contract offer.

The contract between the company and the 450-member local expired May 1 but workers remained on their jobs under an extension.

They voted to take strike action Wednesday morning.

Don't Admit Defeat Until You Lose

You have slightly better than an even chance to win four tricks with K-Q-10-4 in the dummy and A-9-2 in your own hand. You can vastly improve your chance if you know something about the location of the missing cards.

three rounds of trumps and gave up a club. East returned a club, and dummy ruffed.

Needing four heart tricks, South tried the normal play of leading out the three top cards. When the jack did not drop, South announced: "I can't eat the diamond," and he conceded down one.

South had already muffed his best chance for the contract, but he could still make the slam by proper play. It was foolish to give up.

Black Suits

The play of the black suits reveals that East started with seven clubs and two spades. There is room in the East hand for only four red cards.

South should cash the king and ace of hearts, discovering that East started with at least two hearts. Declarer should then take the ace and king of diamonds and discovers that East started also with two diamonds. This accounts for all the red cards that East can possibly hold.

South can therefore lead the last heart from his hand and confidently finesse with dummy's ten. The slam is then assured.

When South mistakenly led out three top hearts, he could still make the hand. He gets to his hand with the king of diamonds and leads the last trump. West can hold only two cards, and one of them must be the jack of hearts. He must therefore come down to one diamond.

Declarer throws the heart from dummy and takes the last two tricks with the ace and nine of diamonds.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S 5 2 H 6 3 D J 4 C K J 9 8 6 4 3. What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass. This hand is so poor that you cannot respond to an opening bid of one in spades, hearts or diamonds. You would raise an opening bid of one club to two clubs.

Ann Says Letters Help Give Perspective on Problems

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a teen-ager who has the usual problems but nothing I can't handle. I'm writing to ask you a personal question about your work.

Doesn't it tear you up when people write letters about nutty stuff like a neighbor who empties the garbage wearing shorts or a mother-in-law whose false teeth click during church services? I should think you'd get so fed up on petty complaints that you'd like to chuck the whole business.

How can people be upset by such trifles when there is so much real suffering in the world? Why don't you tell the whiners and the cryers to jump into the lake? Bricktop

Landers

Dear Brick: No lake could handle 'em, dearie. Besides, I don't mind when people write about penny ante problems because I know that many of them are letting off steam. Often they close by saying, "Thanks for listening. I feel a lot better already."

You'd be surprised if you knew how much real courage there is in this world. Many ordinary, every-day folks deserve a medal for just getting through the day. Yet they never think of themselves as heroic. They feel they are just doing what is expected of them.

One of the useful aspects of this column is that it makes people realize that their own problems aren't so rough after they read what goes on in the lives of others.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It was my first visit to Mrs. R's home. I was invited to play bridge. When I arrived a four-year-old boy opened the door. Mrs. R was seated in another room, visiting with two other guests. When she saw me she didn't even get up. She pointed to a closet and said, "Put your coat in there." I picked the wrong closet and was embarrassed when I was told not to put my coat in with the family's, but to use "the other one."

When I returned, Mrs. R was deep in a conversation with the two women. After a few minutes she said, "Let's play bridge . . . She never did actually say hello to me.

I was uncomfortable the whole evening and wonder if I made a mountain out of a molehill, as my husband suggested. Janice

Dear Janice: Molehill, my eye. The hostess was unspeakably rude. If you ever go to her home again you must be awfully hard up for a card game.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The reason I never married (I am 29 years old) is because I have never fallen in love. Now I have met a woman I do want to marry — although I am not starry-eyed, no bells are ringing and my knees don't turn to water when I'm in her presence.

Zelda is 35 and is madly in love with me. We get along beautifully and I feel like a million dollars when I am with her. Why? Because I've never had a woman so crazy about me, so eager to please, and so doggoned considerate of my feelings.

My father is a minister. He says he was not in love with my mother when they married, but he admired and respected her and their relationship has flowered and matured into a wonderful thing. My father says if I pass up this girl I am foolish. What do you say? — J.

Dear J.: I say your clergyman gave you good advice. Take it.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Irradiation Prolongs Freshness of Fruits

In the past, only people who traveled to Hawaii had a chance to sample the island's delicate tropical fruits at their best. Very little fresh fruit has been exported because it is so perishable. But, thanks to a gamma-ray treatment from a cobalt irradiator, Hawaiian fruits will soon be plentiful in all 50 states.

Normally, papayas are fresh for four to five days. But, with a gamma shot in the skin, papayas will last 10 days or more. And, a good dose of gamma considerably lengthens the shelf-life of pineapples, mangoes and bananas.

Other Hawaiian crops will also be tested under gamma irradiation. But don't get your hopes up if you're an avocado aficianado — as yet, they aren't responding to tratment.

Mrs. Utschig Heads Paulson Circle

Mrs. Donaid Utschig is the new president of the Genevieve Paulson Circle of The King's Daughters. Other recently elected officers are Mrs. James Grist, vice president; Mrs. George Nichols, secretary, and Mrs. William Radke, treasurer.

New members to be initiated at the annual luncheon Saturday at Butte des Morts Golf Club are Mrs. La Verne Weishoff, Mrs. John Jones and Mrs. Richard Emanuel.

Mrs. Alvin Gloudemans of the Christ Child Society presented a slide talk on the summer camping program at the circle's recent meeting at the home of Mrs. David Weiland. The circle gave Mrs. Gloudemans a donation for two scholarships. Cohostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Frank Lehman and Mrs. Leigh Gisvold.

Circle members have begun selling tickets for the summer movie, "The 5,000 Fingers of Dr. T" to be shown Aug. 17 at Franklin School and Aug. 18 at Jefferson School.

Mrs. Utschig reported that the operetta in April was a financial success.

Stocks Gain; Trading Slack

Market Resumes Recovery Started in Wednesday Session

NEW YORK (AP)--The stock market held a moderate gain early this afternoon as trading continued slack

Stocks were higher from the start as they resumed the recovery drive which cut losses late Wednesday

Brokers said factors working toward higher prices included mounting evidence that there would be no tax increase and the government's notice that machine-tool orders will increase because of the Viet Nam struggle

The successful landing of the Surveyor spacecraft on the moon also helped increase the general feeling of confidence

The updrive began to lose steam after an hour or so, however, and it was evident that traders were taking some profits

Aerospace issues color television other electronics and airlines were about the best gainers

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 7 at 320 2 with industrials up 2 rails up 9 and utilities up 6

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1 00 at 884 63

The session was marked by the transfer of several sizable blocks The biggest of these was 66 800 shares of Massey Ferguson off ⅝ at 34

IBM, selling ex rights to subscribe to its stock at $285 a share on the basis of one new share for every 40 held gained a fraction The rights edged off from their closing price of Wednesday

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Weighty Problem

A boy has 9 marbles, 8 of which weigh exactly the same, and the remaining marble is slightly lighter in weight than the other 8 marbles. With just two weighings on a balance scale, how can this boy determine which marble is lighter than the others?

Answer

He places 3 marbles on one side of the scales and 3 on the other side. If the scales balance, the light marble is not among these 6 marbles, but is one of the 3 marbles not yet weighed. Two of these remaing 3 marbles are weight against each other, and if they don't balance, you know what marble is the light one. If they do balance, the remaining unweighed marble is the one you're seeking. If on the first weighing, the scales don't balance, you proceed with two of the three marbles on the light side as you did in the aforementioned second step.

Make Novel Flower Holders From Used Lotion Containers

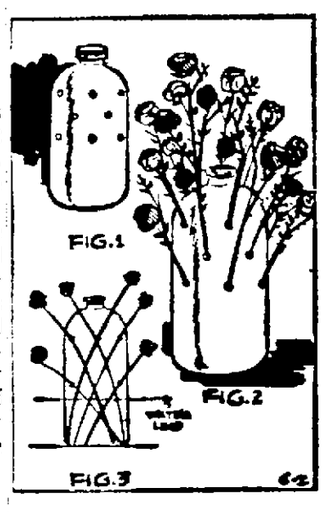

BY CAPPY DICK

The polyethylene containers that are used these days for some lotions and other liquids can be converted into novel holders for fresh flowers simply by punching a few holes.

Figure 1 shows such a plastic bottle after several rows of holes have been made in it. Figure 2 shows the bottle with the stems of fresh flowers poked into the holes.

The cut-away view in Figure 3 shows that the long-stemmed flowers are to be poked into the highest holes while the flowers having shorter stems are placed in the lower holes. Also, the dotted line shows the level of water that is poured into the top of the bottle. The level of the water must be slightly below the lowest row of holes so it will not leak out of the container.

If the container has a label on it, this should be removed to enhance the appearance of the completed project.

acid indigestion?

Now there is a pill that stops acid indigestion so quickly, so effectively, so economically, it's hard to believe. In tests on people at a famous medical center, this pill worked dramatically better than every leading antacid tested—including prescription-type pills and liquids. Where can you get it? Practically anywhere. The wonder drug for acid indigestion is TUMS®. Easy-to-get, 12¢-a-roll TUMS. The little tablet you may think of as a candy mint, really is the best medicine for acid indigestion. TUMS!

The musical is based upon the noted comedy "Auntie Mame," which Rosalind Russell made famous several seasons ago. (AP Wirephoto)

TV Personalities Take To Straw Hat Circuit

Turns Out to be Summer Bonanza For Producers, Actors, Audiences

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's winter personalities turn into summer actors whenever possible as the rewards are great.

"Personalities" is a word covering performers with hard to define assignments such as host, master of ceremonies, panel or game show regular and, of course, variety stars who can sing, dance or do comedy monologues.

Long ago night club owners and summer stock producers learned the public turned out in droves to see in the flesh the people it had been watching daily or weekly on television.

Now Big Business

It now is big business with a big money for established and popular stars. The going rate starts at $5,000 a week, sometimes with a guarantee of 30 to 50 per cent of gross receipts when the box office returns go over a predetermined amount. Some famous stars earn more than $15,000 a week in summer theaters.

It is easier for the regulars on panel and game shows to enjoy this summer moonlighting as their shows may be taped in advance or taping schedules can be set to match their convenience.

During the next few months three of the four panelists on only one show, "To Tell the Truth" will be making personal acting appearances.

Tom Poston will star in "The Well-Dressed Liar" in Miami. Orson Bean will take on "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" in North Carolina. Kitty Carlisle has some singing engagements.

Betsy Palmer of "I've Got a Secret" will tour in "Peter Pan". Steven Allen has night-club dates arranged on the West Coast.

Allen Ludden of "Password" and his wife, Betty White, will appear together in "Bells Are Ringing".

Gene Rayburn of "Match Game" will appear with his wife, Helen, and daughter, Lynn, in a production of "The Impossible Years."

Arlene Francis of "What's My Line?" takes time out for a Philadelphia production of "The Time of the Cuckoo."

Andy Williams arranges his variety show's shooting schedule so he can spend the summer months making a fortune playing state fairs from one end of the country to another. Western stars, like Lorne Green and Mike Landon, squeeze in lucrative fair and rodeo dates, often over weekends when "Bonanza" is building its next season's quota of shows.

Fanciest summer contract of them all was signed by Barbra Streisand after only one hit Broadway show and two well received TV specials. She was guaranteed $1 million for a series of six summer appearances. But the contract had to be cancelled because she is expecting her first child.

Routine Night Ahead for TV Watchers

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7 (Channels 11-6-9) — Holy irony, Commissioner Gordon has to call his millionaire socialite friend Bruce Wayne (and we all know he's Batman) to borrow a million dollars to keep The Riddler, lovely in his green tights with the lavender question marks, from exploding a Gotham City monument. And while Bruce is talking to Gordon, guess who shows up. Another Batman, that's who. Holy Imposter, is no one safe? (R-Color)

6:30-7:30 (Channels 4-5) — There's a change of scenery and costume for Daniel Boone and his wife, who look handsome and beautiful respectively as they set out for New Orleans on a long-delayed honeymoon. But a rider is pursuing Boone while a pair of assassins are pursuing the rider. (R-Color)

7:30-8 (Channels 11-6-9) — The Double Life of Henry Phyfe has hapless Henry (Red Buttons) posing as an artist in order to make contact with a mysterious someone at a model agency. But he keeps getting whapped by girls, then has to learn how to fly a helicopter via "Operation Instant Flyboy." (R-Color)

7:30-8 (Channels 2-7-12) — The spotlight is on William Demarest on My Three Sons. He "wins" a free dancing lesson, and soon is being conned by the flattery of pretty Joanna Moore into taking more and more lessons. (R-Color)

8-8:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — If the Bewitched joke hasn't worn thin for you, then you'll enjoy "The Girl With the Golden Nose," which has some funny bits. Seems Darren at first doesn't get to handle a new account at the agency, then he does get to handle it. The latter comes about from his own abilities, but as usual, he suspects his wife's witch twitch is responsible.

8-10 (Channels 2-7-12) — "Experiment in Terror," on The Thursday Night Movies, is a good suspense drama about a diabolical plot to loot a bank, and the efforts of an FBI agent to work with one of the plot's victims. Glenn Ford and Lee Remick are good in these roles. (R)

9-10 (Channels 11-6-9) — The Baron once more travels behind the Iron Curtain, this time to "attend" an antiques fair. But there is a security leak involving one of "our" agents, and "they" snatch Cordelia (who really isn't too bright), and exchanges have to be arranged. (R-Color)

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

It depends on what area of life you're thinking of. Men are far more conservative than women in dress. Male clothing never matches the swings in style that modern women go through. In ideas and attitudes perhaps it is women who are the more conservative — principally because they have so much to conserve in their homes and children. Of course, there are conservatives as well as non-conservatives in both sexes. It is more a matter of individual personality than of sex.

Today's young people choose their own moral standards!

True —— False ——

True, many of them do. Today's young people are face to face with delicately balanced situations that require them to decide for or against participation in all sorts of sexual relationships. They are making decisions that affect their present and future lives in important ways. More than ever they need the knowledges, insights, and understanding of themselves and others that provide sound bases for these urgent choices.

"Spare the rod . . ." How does this apply today? Are you puzzled about disciplining your child? If so, send for the valuable booklet, "How To Discipline Your Children." In it, you'll find helpful advice to aid you when disciplinary action is necessary in your household. Send 25 cents, along with your name and address (including ZIP Code), to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of The Post-Crescent.

Recreation Director Retires

'Duke' Recalls Long Career

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The "Duke" retired Tuesday.

E. W. (Duke) Grover at the close of the work day wound up a 36-year career as a municipal recreation director.

Little did Grover realize back in the depression years after working and studying his way through Northwestern University that he would devote a good share of a lifetime directing programs from which untold thousands would benefit over the years.

But after close to four decades as a director — including 21 years in Apleton — Grover is the first to admit that recreation can be hard work.

"I think more and more people have been taking part in municipal recreation programs in recent years because it has become more of a necessity due to the fast living pace," Grover told his interviewer.

Grover wore two hats before he came to Appleton in 1945 and launched one of the most extensive municipal recreation programs in the state. He worked in a Racine shoe store during the late 1920's and then shifted to teaching at the vocational school there.

"I helped out with the recreation program there and when the depression came I found myself holding the position of city recreation director at Racine," Grover said.

"The pay wasn't much but I liked the work and decided to stick with it," Grover said.

Grover was used to hard work even as a youngster. When Grover was 12 years old his father died and he worked at odd jobs while in school while still managing to make a name for himself in athletics.

He also worked his way through college where he starred in football and basketball, along with excelling in the classroom.

Grover estimates about 200,000 people benefit in some way or another from Appleton Recreation Department-sponsored programs for men, women and children of all ages.

Many Additions

When he came to Appleton, there were three baseball diamonds and two schools with playgrounds. But things changed over the years and today the city boasts 15 diamonds (two lighted), two municipal swimming pools and 14 playground sites.

"The recreation program has expanded considerably with arts and crafts and other subjects added in at the request of children and adults," Grover said.

Grover admits to being "deeply concerned" over the attitude of some youths who appear to derive more pleasure from performing acts of vandalism than participating in recreation programs.

"We have had thousands of dollars damage to park and recreation facilities in recent years, and it is getting worse," Grover observed.

The format of the municipal recreation program has also changed, according to the veteran director.

"Today everyone requests more services and they want to partake in programs only when they feel like it," Grover said.

Grover felt that years back youngsters had more appreciation for the recreational activities and facilities provided them.

E. W. Grover

Grover, well known in state and national receational circles, said he was bowing out at a time when Appleton "has a good and as comprehensive a recreation program as anywhere in the state."

However, Grover said Appleton has one major void — the lack of a community center.

"Every mayor who has been in office since I came here advocated such a center but nothing ever materialized," Grover remarked. "We could use such a center to be utilized seven days a week."

While recreation programs have generally been considered for the small fry and teenagers, more adults are participating annually, Grover said there was a good reason — emphasis on physical fitness.

"Let's face it," Grover said, "people are gorging themselves with food and today's way of life is a fast pace."

He said adults have just as much fun participating in their programs as do youngsters in Little League Baseball which has become a big summertime hit.

Times Have Changed

Grover said he has watched thousands of youngsters at play and work, adding a bit of philosophy that, "The boy who plays hard, studies hard and works hard."

He admits the physical labor of a recreation director isn't what it used to be, and adds a "thank goodness". Grover remembers when money and labor were scarce and he had to personally work athletic fields in shape, and repair equipment by hand.

Grover has always been a stylish dresser and appears younger than his 65 years.

He picked up the monicker "Duke" back in 1918 at Racine High. Grover was out on the basketball court attired in an old pair of World War I khaki's when one of his Jewish teammates started to kid him.

"I called him 'Murphy' and told him to pass me the ball," Grover recalled.

"Okay, 'Duke' — here it comes," was the instant reply.

The name "Duke" stuck with Grover from that day on.

Grover said he intends to relax, play golf and fish. He and his wife Martha plan to do some traveling, too.

"But as I told my wife — I think I've seen enough softball and baseball games to last me for a while," Grover quipped.

Hansen Retires From Power Firm Post

Harvey W. Hansen, 826 W. Third St., electric division manager of Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., retired on Wednesday after 46 years and several months with the firm.

He started with W.M.P.Co. on Nov. 5, 1919, as a groundman in the line department. He later became a lineman, system tester and line dispatcher. In 1940, he was advanced to operating supervisor and general supervisor of the electric department in 1943. Hansen was named electrical superintendent in 1945 and the company's southern division manager in 1949. In 1961, Hansen assumed the title held at his retirement.

Prior to joining W.M.P. Co., Hansen worked for the Chicago North Western Railway signal department, Wisconsin Telephone Co. and Western Union Telegraph Co.

He is a member of Waverly Lodge No. 51, Free and Accepted Masons, a past member of Appleton Chamber of Commerce, and a life member of the Wisconsin Utilities Association veterans' group.

Male Nurses Surprised at Being Drafted

KINGS PARK, N.Y. (AP) — What do you do when you're a 34-year- old male nurse with a wife and family and you suddenly find out you've been drafted?

That description happens to fit two Kings Park, Long Island, men — who also happen to be life-long friends — and they have different answers.

Calvin M. Cunningham say he'll leafe his wife and three children in their home when he reports for induction July 8.

James J. Girvan and his wife plan to put their house up for rent and take their five children along with them.

Neither man is bitter about his forthcoming service. "It's my turn and I don't intend to burn my draft card in any sort of a protest," says Cunningham.

A Selective Service System spokesman said the call went out to draft male nurses because there weren't enough female nurses volunteering and "we can't draft women."

Girvan and Cunningham expect they'll receive eight weeks of orientation at an Army medical center in Texas before they're commissioned.

Cards' Friel Stops Foxes on 2-Hitter

Fox Cities Retains Its 1-Game Lead

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia. — Unbeaten righthander Ted Friel notched his fourth victory of the season here Wednesday night as the Cedar Rapids Cardinals checked the Midwest League-leading Fox Cities Foxes on two hits, 4-1.

Despite the loss, the Foxes retained their 1-game lead. But third-place Wisconsin Rapids pulled within two games of the lead with a 13-5 romp over Dubuque.

The Foxes invade Wisconsin Rapids for a 3-game series tonight and Mickey Abarbanel, who held the Twins hitless last Saturday, will probably be Fox Cities' starting pitcher.

Fox Cities managed a run in the first inning of last night's game, but that was the extent of the Foxes' fireworks. "Deacon" Jones lashed a 2-out single and Bill Melton grounded to shortstop John Sipen, whose throw to second for the forceout on Jones sailed into right field, with Deacon scoring on the 2-base error.

Three Other Runners

The only other Foxes' baserunners were Cottrell, who walked in the second but was caught stealing; Jones, who walked in the fourth and reached second on a passed ball and Melton, who singled in the seventh. Melton's base hit extended his hitting streak to nine games.

Meanwhile, Cedar Rapids collected a run in the second when Biff Bracy singled and advanced on a wild pitch, scoring on a Rogers Robinson base hit. Joe Hague doubled in the third inning and Bracy slammed a home run over the 358-foot mark in center field for a 3-1 pad.

The final tally came on Sipin's solo homer, this first of the season, in the fourth inning. Foxes' relief pitchers Gary Schaefer and Willie Hooker blanked the Cards on just two hits in the last four innings.

Rushton, Vanderhyden Among Contenders For State Net Title

Neenah Defends Team Crown in Weekend Meet

Appleton's Jeff Rushton and Menasha's Tom Vanderhyden will be two of the top contenders for the state high school tennis singles championship this weekend.

Rushton has been seeded No. 2 and Vanderhyden No. 3 for the 2-day tourney which starts Friday at Milwaukee Nicolet.

Nicolet's Scott Perlstein is the top seed in the tourney which seeks a successor to the now-graduated Dan Bleckinger, of Oshkosh.

Neenah will defend its 1965 team championship. The Rockets have qualified a full team for the state tourney, as has Menasha and AHS. Kimberly will be another Fox Cities representative — but in doubles competition only.

Rushton, who took third place in the 1965 singles competition, is the top-finishing returnee. He has compiled a glossy record of 19-1 this season. His only loss came at the hands of Vanderhyden last weekend in the Appleton sectional meet.

Has 17-2 Record

Vanderhyden owns a 17-2 record. He has lost to Rushton and to Perlstein, the only unbeaten player in the tourney.

Rushton is scheduled to meet Whitefish Bay's Pat Mulcahy in his initial start — during the second round. Vanderhyden is slated to meet the winner of the match between Neenah's Jeff Jensen and Madison West's Jim Allen.

AHS' Brent Gibson will meet Jefferson's Mike Buchanan in the first round; Menasha's Pat Conway duels Whitefish Bay's Larry Barr; and Neenah's Bernie Peterson plays Monroe's Bill Nordei.

Menasha's Wayne Beattie and Kevin Conway are the No. 1 doubles seed. They meet West Allis Hale's Andy Reitz and Bob Henning in the second round — which will be their first start.

Kimberly's Bob Van Gompel and Jim VandenHeuvel make their first start against Milwaukee Washington's Larry Pollack and Dan Hartsman. AHS' John Spetch and Don Olson face Waukesha's John Van Krevel and Bruce Langenkamp in their first match.

Neenah's Pat Nadolny and Leight Ford duel Oconomowoc's Bill Swendsen and Rick Fatura.

Twenty-one schools will have full teams in the tourney.

Koufax Pleased With Showing Against Cards

Dodger Ace Declines Comment on Chance To Win 30 This Year

By MIKE RECHT

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sandy Koufax does not mind putting the hex on Juan Marichal and he gets paid for doing it to opposing hitters, but you won't find him jinxing himself.

"Sure Marichal has a chance to win 30," he laughed after blanking the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 Wednesday night to stay one victory behind the San Francisco hurler.

But asked about his own chances, dandy Sandy only reminded writers about last year.

"You asked me then about Don Drysdale and myself and I gave you an answer," he said. "Then Don and I couldn't win a game for weeks."

Off to Better Start

But answer or not, Koufax is off to a better start at 9-1 than last season when he finished at 26-8. He did not win his ninth game last season until June 12.

Koufax, who along with Marichal got off to a late start this year because of contract problems, indicated the best still is yet to come.

"This is the best I've thrown all year," he said after allowing the Cardinals only seven hits, several of the fluke variety. "I had a good fast ball, good curve and good control and even got a couple of fork balls in for strikes."

He lowered his earned run average to 1.48, still behind Marichal's 0.80 and 10-0 record. But both are ahead of the 1934 30-game pace of Dizzy Dean, last major leaguer to win 30.

Koufax had to be at his best against the Cardinals and Al Jackson, whose earned run average dropped to 0.73. The only run off Jackson, now 4-3, came on an error in the seventh inning.

Willie Davis lined a drive into the right field corner that carromed past right fielder Bob Tolan, who then threw badly to Julian Javier, allowing Davis to come all the way around.

Davis, too, indicated things would get even better. Although he has no home runs, the center fielder is hitting .284, one of his best starts.

"I don't care if he doesn't hit a homer all year," said Manager Walter Alston. "We've been trying to keep him from swinging so hard."

"I widened my stance," Davis said, "and I see the ball better, don't swing as hard and lay off the bad pitches. I tried for homers before, but now I'll take those doubles and triples."

Los Angeles' Willie Davis slides head-first toward home plate to score the game's only run in the seventh inning and give the Dodgers' a 1-0 win over St. Louis Wednesday. Davis tripled and continued home when rightfielder Bob Tolan threw badly to the infield. Julian Javier's relay throw to Cards' catcher Tim McCarver was too late to nail Davis. (AP Wirephoto)

Allen's Booming Bat Helps Phillies in Sweep Over Cubs

Giant Homers Trim Braves; Koufax Stars

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rich Allen can't throw over 60 feet, but he's having no difficulty hitting over 400.

Philadelphia's star third baseman, who missed 20 games with a dislocated right shoulder, is recuperating in the outfield and making the Phillies healthy with his bat.

Allen drove in four runs — three of them with a 447-foot home run — Wednesday night as the Phillies rallied for a 7-4 victory in the second game and completed a sweep of their doubleheader against Chicago. Philadelphia won the opener 4-3.

It was Allen's second 400-foot homer since returning to the line-up last week. He's had nine hits in30 swings and shows a season's average of .338. With him back, the Phils have won six of eight.

Mays Hits 517th

Elsewhere Wednesday night, Willie Mays hit his 517th career homer as San Francisco edged Atlanta 4-3, Los Angeles blanked St. Louis 1-0 on Sandy Koufax' seven-hutter, Houston shut out Cincinnati 2-0 and Pittsburgh downed New York 3-1.

After Allen's tape measure homer, shortstop Bobby Wine broke the tie with the first of two doubles and then the Phillies pulled away.

In the first game, Tony Taylor's eighth inning single brought Bill White home with

Afternoon Parade Slated

Schenkel Will be MC at 1,000-Yard Club Dinner

MENASHA — In addition to National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle as guest speaker, the annual banquet of the 1,000-Yard Club will feature Chris Schenkel, top ABC sportscaster, as master of ceremonies.

Tuesday's banquet will be held at Sabre Lanes. The club was founded in 1964 to raise money for local youth charities.

Of the 11 rushers that have been enshrined for gaining over 1,000 yards in a season, 10 will be on hand for the banquet this year.

Only Jim Brown, who is making a movie in England, will be unable to make it.

The 10 backs will make their first appearance in the day-long affair during a parade at 2 p.m., through downtown Neenah-Menasha. Beattie Feathers, Steve Van Buren, Tony Canadeo, Joe Perry, Rick Casares, J. D. Smith, Jim Taylor, John David Crow, John Henry Johnson and Dick Bass will all be seated in open convertibles during the parade.

Since new 1,000 yard rushers were added to NFL honor rolls last year, the annual award of the club will be given to the best blocker in the league. The same procedure was followed last year, when Jim Parker was voted by sports writers and broadcasters as the top offensive lineman.

This year, the judges have picked Forrest Gregg from the unsung ranks of blockers for the 1,000-Yard Club award. Parker will make the award to Gregg at the banquet.

Durocher Plays Banks, Santo at New Spots

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ernie Banks played third base and Ron Santo started at shortstop, each for the first time at these unfamiliar positions since 1962, when the Chicago Cubs met the Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday night.

Manager Leo Durocher indicated he wasn't shaking up the line-up of his last-place Cubs but decided to give shortstop Don Kessinger a rest. The Cubs lost both games.

MU Cagers Will Play 9 New Rivals

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Brigham Young, champions of the National Invitational Tournament, have joined a revamped and toughened list of Marquette basketball foes.

Brodie Secures Attorney for Contract Talks

49er Quarterback May be Considering Switch to Oilers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers has thrown the ball to an attorney in lining up for his 1966 contract negotiations while the price war between pro football leagues rages.

The 31-year-old veteran, who set a National Football League completion record last season, engaged John Elliot Cook to represent him.

That came just a day after Don Klosterman, general manager for Houston in the American Football League, told of talks with the 49er star in the Texas city.

In San Francisco, that brought immediate speculation that the former Stanford great might be considering a switch of allegiance. That could mean forfeiture of a pension already earned.

Politely Refused

Brodie politely refused to discuss the situation. Asked about the Houston visit, he said, "I read a lot in the papers about the trip."

Cook, an attorney for 45 years, said, "I'm in the process of trying to learn what this is all about. I haven't looked at any writings and I've only had a preliminary talk with John Brodie."

The lawyer said the 49er quarterback was the "first athlete I have had as a client in connection with his profession."

Cook added that he has asked Brodie to bring "everything you have in writing" for a study of the over-all situation.

The 49ers say Brodie's 1965 contract contained the option

Only 24 hours earlier, the White Sox lost the services of shortstop Ron Hansen for the rest of the season because of a ruptured spinal disc.

Angels Use 12 Hurlers in Last Two Games

Only Five Have Gone Route in First 44 Contests

ANAHEIM (AP)—Bill Rigney, manager of the California Angels, averages three pitchers a game and his skillful and frequent changes usually pay off. But the well may run dry.

The Angels are in a desperate fix after employing six hurlers in a 17-inning loss to Cleveland Tuesday night and six more in a 10-inning, 9-7, defeat by Baltimore Wednesday night.

In fact, the entire Angel team may be dead on its feet this afternoon when it squares off against the Orioles in the second and final game of the series at Anaheim Stadium.

When they walked off the field as losers at 11:41 p.m., the Angels had played 45 innings in a span of only 58 hours, starting with Memorial Day double - header against Cleveland. And there isn't a breather in sight.

The Angels have four weekend games here against Detroit, including a Sunday double-header, and they won't have a day off until June 9.

Only five Angel pitchers have managed to go the route in the first 44 games, so Rigney is hoping that veteran Jack Sanford (5-1) can give the bullpen a breather when he goes to the mound against Baltimore's John Miller (0-1).

Brunet Relieves

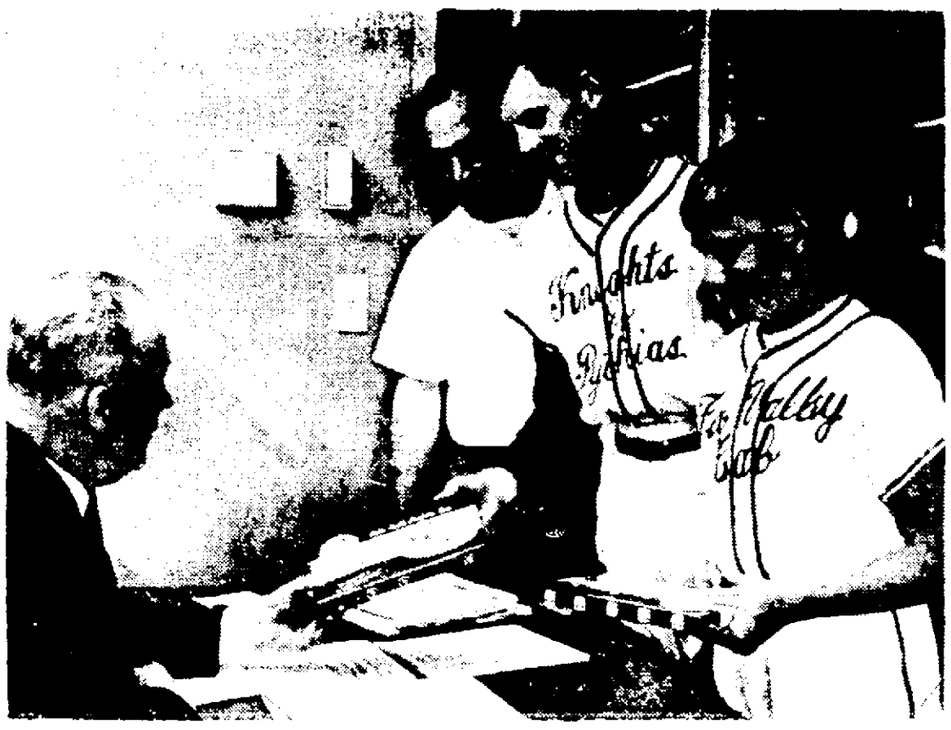

Rigney had to press starter George Brunet into relief service because the Angels' ace fireman, Bob Lee, had toiled seven innings in the loss to Cleveland. Brunet was pinned with the defeat after giving up leadoff singles to Paul Blair and Dave Johnson in the 10th.

Pinchhitter Jerry Adair won the game with a tie - breaking single off Howie Reed. Luis Aparicio added an insurance run with a sacrifice fly.

It was a bitter defeat for the Angels, who bounced back from 2-0, 5-2 and 6-4 deficits to go ahead, 7-6, on a two-run single by Bobby Knoop in the seventh inning.

The Orioles tied it in the eighth when Brooks Robinson hit a double off Jim McGlothlin, and pinchhitter Frank Robinson delivered a single off Brunet.

The Orioles had 16 hits including two homers by John Powell, who drove in three runs.

Stanky Gets Licks, Too

Chisox' Agee Literally Runs Critics Into Ground

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) Manager Eddie Stanky of the Chicago White Sox and rookie outfielder Tommie Agee lashed back at their critics Wednesday night when Agee ran the Sox to a 6-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

Agee, who had been criticized for an attempted steal of third base Tuesday against Boston and had been thrown out, retaliated against the Yankees by getting on base four times, stealing two bases and scoring three runs before twisting his ankle.

Chicago lost to Boston 1-0 Tuesday but had little trouble against the Yankees because of Agee's antics on the bases.

Agee's major feat came in the fifth inning when he scored from second while Moose Skowron was grounding out to short. Agee scored again in the seventh on an infield grounder but injured his ankle in the process.

"I'll be okay, I'll play tomorrow," said Agee. However, the Sox trainer, Doc Froelich, said it would be better to wait until Thursday before deciding if Agee could play despite the fact his ankle was not swollen.

Stanky Gets Licks

Stanky got his licks in against the second guessers who said Agee had no business running against Boston with the team trailing 1-0.

"We're not here to play safety first baseball," said Stanky. "Agee has the go-ahead to run whenever he wants. He proved tonight he's not a shrinking violet. Other players would have been cautious after reading the papers.

"But Agee still kept running and it meant a ball game for us," continued Stanky. "Sure, Juan Pizarro pitched a great game but Agee won it for us with his running."

Agee was a factor inasmuch as the Yankees contributed four errors toward the White Sox victory.

"When you run the bases the way Agee did," Stanky said, "the other team figures to make errors."

Pick Dickson To Pilot Hill's Winning Car

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Larry Dickson of Marietta, Ohio, Indianapolis 500-mile auto race rookie, was named Wednesday to drive winner Graham Hill's car in the Rex Mays memorial race at Milwaukee Sunday.

Hill, of London, piloted the Lola-Ford to victory Memorial Day in first try at the auto classic.

Dickson finished 32nd in the 33 car field when his Halibrand-Ford was wiped out in the first-lap pile-up which eliminated a third of the starting field.

Dickson joined the U.S. Auto Club this year after winning the United Racing Club Sprint Championship in 1965. His first USAC victory was scored in April in an Eldora, Ohio, sprint race.

Hill's car, owned by John Mecom, was scheduled to be driven at Milwaukee by two-time Indianapolis winner Rodger Ward of Indianapolis, who unexpectedly announced his retirement from the sport at the Speedway victory banquet Tuesday night.

Niekro, Alomar Sent to Minors; Millan Called Up

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Braves, in a bid to bolster their sagging infield, have recalled Felix Millan from Austin of the Texas League and farmed out second baseman Sandy Alomar.

Dispatched with Alomar to Richmond of the International League was Phil Niekro, a knuckleball pitcher.

'Will Open Up Other Avenues'

Halas Doesn't Mind If Bears' Foes Gang Up on Sayers This Year

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — George Halas expects the rest of the league to gang up on Gale Sayers this coming season.

"They'd better," said the 71-year-old owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

Halas was in town with other coaches in the National Football League for a two-day series of meetings with Mark Duncan, head of league officials.

"We know they are going to defense the heck out of Sayers, and rightfully so," said Halas. "I think it will open up other avenues of our offense. We expect it. We have been preparing for it all winter.

"It would not be fair to Sayers to expect him to have as great a year as last. But we do think we can open up a little more. We have Ron Bull back there and Andy Livingston, plus several others. And Johnny Morris on the flank and Jim Jones and Dick Gordon at split end."

Ties 1-Game Mark

As a rookie from Kansas, Sayers set a league record with 22 touchdowns last season and tied a one-game mark by scoring six touchdowns in one game against San Francisco on Dec. 5.

"I was on the other side both times when fellows scored six touchdowns before," said Halas. "Ernie Nevers got six against us with the old Chicago Cardinals and Dub Jones got six for Cleveland in a game with the Bears. This was by far the most spectacular.

"I will tell you something I never told before. The only reason Gale didn't get a chance to score a seventh when we had the ball on the four with two or three minutes to go, was that he had bruised his knee in the last quarter. He wanted to go in but I couldn't take a chance with a man's career."

When a reporter remarked that many planned to pick the Bears to win the Western Conference title this season, Halas pretended to be startled.

"There's your man," he said, pointing to Vince Lombardi, Green Bay coach. "You can take his picture right now."

Campaneris Sidelined With Muscle Spasm

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City Athletics' shortstop Bert campaneris was admitted to St. Luke's Hospital Wednesday night suffering from a muscle spasm.

clause for his services in 1966. Under established club policy, officials would not discuss either prior contracts or present negotiations.

There were reports the ace passer received in the neighborhood of $40,000 last year and wanted $75,000 this time, perhaps spaced over a number of years.

Opened New Avenue

Kiosterman said he and Brodie have been friends for years and admitted they discussed football during the weekend. The Houston official added that Brodie "feels that the Pete Gogolak deal opened up a new avenue for him."

New York of the NFL signed kicking specialist Gogolak this spring after he played out his option with Buffalo of the AFL last fall.

Brodie, however, already has qualified for an NFL pension. If an NFL player plays out his option, he loses pension benefits although if he is released and goes to another league, he retains them.

Under 1965 figures, a five-year-veteran receives $437 monthly in pension, a 10-year-veteran an $656. Brodie has played seven seasons under the plan which went into effect in 1959.

Inside-the-Park Blast

Aaron Doesn't Feel Mays Deserved Homer

By RON SPEER

ATLANTA (AP) — Willie Mays has moved a notch closer to third place on the all-time home run list, but another famous slugger doesn't think the San Francisco belter deserves his latest homer.

"Mack Jones or I should have caught the ball," Atlanta's Henry Aaron said of Mays' first-inning blast Wednesday night. The fleet Giant turned the hit into an inside-the-park home run that ignited San Francisco's 4-3 conquest of the Braves.

"Mack got his glove on the ball, but we ran into each other and the ball popped out," Aaron said. "Then when I tried to pick it up after it hit the center field fence I grabbed a handful of cinders with the ball and dropped it.

"By then Willie was on his way, but if I had not dropped it I could have held him to a triple."

Argues With Photographer

Mays slid home just ahead of the throw to the plate and was given his 12th home run of the season by the official scorer — the 517th of his career. He needs just four more to tie Ted Williams for third on the home run chart.

Mays wasn't talking about the home run. He got into an argument in the Giants' dressing room after the game with an Atlanta photographer, refused to pose for a second picture and then brushed off sports writers from the southeast who tried to interview him.

The homer by Mays — a two-run shot — was followed by a solo blast by Willie McCovey which just cleared the center field fence. Braves' left fielder Felipe Alou got his glove on the ball but it bounced out when Alou came down on the fence.

"If we were going good," Alou said later, "both of those homers would have been caught. But that's the way things are going for us."

The loss was the fifth straight for the Braves, who came back in the ninth with a run, and had two on base with none out. Then pinch-hitter Frank Bolling bounced into a fielder's choice, and Lindy McDaniel came in and fanned pinch-hitter Gary Geiger and got Woody Woodward to fly out.

Glen Nau Pitches Second No-Hitter of the Season

Glen Nau, pitching for Paradise Club in the Classic Softball League Wednesday evening, authored his second no-hitter of the season as his team eked out a 1-0, 8-inning triumph over Northwest Supply.

Nau fanned 11 and walked only two en route to the no-hitter, while losing pitcher Jerry Schmidt limited the victors to three hits in the hotly-contested mound duel.

Schmidt fanned a dozen and issued three walks. The game's only run came on a double by Paradise Club's Dennis Roff in the eighth, a passed ball and a hunt by Tom Mulrine.

Voigt, Oaks Among Top Threats

5 State Track Records in Jeopardy

MONONA GROVE (AP)— Stu Voigt of Madison West leads a flock of athletes from 65 high schools in an annual charge on the record book Saturday as the WIAA holds its 70th annual Class A track meet.

At least five state public school records are in jeopardy at the event, including the shot put, Voigt's specialty.

The Wisconsin - bound strong boy has already heaved the 12-pound ball 67-feet-½, well above the state mark of 63-feet-¾.

Voigt is also a threat in the discus. His throw of 172-feet-2 in the sectionals was the best reported in Wisconsin this season, but was shy of the record of 174-feet-2.

Gary Thornton of Racine Park, who finished second in the mile a year ago, is a threat to the 880 - yard record. He has been clocked in 1:54.1 this year, under the 1:54.7 record.

Racine Horlick's mile relay team was clocked in 3:25.6 in the sectionals, a second faster than the state mark.

Threat to Record

Bill Oaks of Oshkosh has pole vaulted 14-feet-4 this season and is a distinct threat to the 13-feet-7-¼ state record.

Barnhart is one of three defending champions entered in the games. The others are John Zoelle of Fond du Lac in the 100-yard dash and Jim Schmidt of Milwaukee Bay View in the 440-yard run.

Zoelle will be up against Chuck Huggins of Madison East in his attempt to defend the crown. Huggins raced the 100 in :9.9 during the regular season and had a :10 flat clocking in the sectionals.

Schmidt stands a good chance of retaining his title in the 440. He has been clocked in :49.3 this season, best in Class A and better than the class record of :49.5.

The state mark in the event was set last week by Mark Winzenried of Monroe with a 47.8 effort in the Class B meet.

Superior has the most qualifiers in the meet, 13 entries in individual events and a relay team.

Manitowoc has 11 entries and a relay team, while Milwaukee Riverside has 10 entries.

Whitefish Bay had best sectional showings in two events, the low hurdles and the high jump, and had second best performance in another event.

Beloit had best sectional performances in the 440 and the 880-yard relay, and West, thanks to Voigt, was tops in the shot put and discus.

Podres Looks Sharp In Relief as Tigers Topple Twins, 9-4

Agee's Running Ability Triggers Chisox' 6-2 Win Over Yankees

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It s taken two months and two leagues — but Johnny Podres finally has pitched nine innings

Podres acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers last month continued his strong pitching for Detroit Wednesday night as he posted his second straight victory with 3 1 3 innings of one hit relief work in the Tigers 9-4 triumph over Minnesota

The 33-year old left hander now has made six appearances for the Tigers and allowed only four hits and two runs while running his work for the season to nine innings Over the first month he had pitched only 1 2 3 innings for the Dodgers

And he didn t like it

Arm Feels Good

'I just want to go somewhere where I can pitch Podres said when he was traded I threw the ball good all spring and my arm feels good now But you get out of shape pitching 1 2 3 innings in a month

Podres who has been plagued the last two years by arm trouble figured as a starter with the Dodgers during the Sandy Koufax Don Drysdale holdout siege but became expendable when the Dodger aces signed The Tigers grabbed him for cash and a player to be named later

Against the Twins Podres came on in the fourth inning with two men on and two out He walked Jim Hall but bore down and got Tony Oliva on a grounder to first He allowed only a single by Harmon Killebrew before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth

Elsewhere Baltimore outlasted California 9 7 in 10 innings Kansas City walloped Cleveland 8 3 the Chicago White Sox downed the New York Yankees 6 2 and Washington whipped Boston 6 3 before the Red Sox took the night cap 5 0

Supplies Key Hit

Al Kaline drove in four runs for the Tigers but Jerry Lumpe supplied the key hit with a two run single in the seventh inning that snapped a 3 3 tie

Jerry Adair won it for the Orioles with a tie breaking pinch hit single in the 10th after Baltimore had filled the bases on singles by Paul Blair and Dave Johnson and a walk to Andy Etchebarren Luis Aparicio s sacrifice fly produced an insurance run

Boog Powell hit two homers and Andy Etchebarren one but the Orioles still had to play catch up ball the Angels 7 7 in the eighth on a double by Brooks Robinson and a pinch hit single by Frank Robinson

The A s tagged Indian starter John Odenoghue and two successors for 11 hits including homers by Ed Charles and Ken Harrelson and triples by Dick Green and Danny Cater Green s triple and a single by Joe Nossek in the sixth inning broke a 3 3 tie and put Kansas City ahead to stay

Decisive Run

Tom Tresh's error and singles by Tom Agee Bill Skowron and Floyd Robinson gave the White Sox two runs in the third inning Then Agee scored what turned out to be the decisive run in the fifth when he walked stole second and came all the way home on Bill Skowron s grounder

Two-run doubles by Bob Chance and Dick Nen in the last two innings brought the Senators their opening game victory The Red Sox took the nightcap as Bob Sadowski and Jose Santiago checked the Senators on three hits and Rico Petrocelli collected his ninth homer

Written Testimony Required In Atlanta 'Cola Battle'

ATLANTA Ga (AP) — U S District Judge Lewis R Morgan has decided that a hearing should be held on written rather than oral testimony in a bid by Royal Crown Cola Co for an order allowing it to sell at Atlanta Stadium

Attorneys for Royal Crown which seeks a temporary injunction barring alleged discrimination against its products at the stadium said today they will request hearing on affidavits as soon as possible

Royal Crown also seeks $1 million in actual damages punitively tripled under the Sherman Antitrust Act, charging conspiracy on the part of several defendants

Names in the action are Coca Cola Co Coca Cola Bottling Co Atlanta Coca Cola Bottling Co Atlanta Braves Inc Automatic Retailers of America and the City of Atlanta the Fulton County Recreation Authority and Arthur Montgomery

The suit claims Montgomery board chairman of Atlanta Coca Cola Bottling Co and chairman of the Recreation Authority used his position to create and maintain a monopoly on soft drink sales at the stadium

Royal Crown claims it has been turned down on repeated offers to put its product on sale at the stadium where Automatic Retailers has the concessions franchise

Your Money's Worth

Food Cost Increase Less Than Wage Boost

BY SYLVIA PORTER

A market basket of the 11 key foods in your diet which have the largest weight in the Government's Consumer Price

Porter

Index costs you about 8.9 per cent more today than it did in February 1961 the month the last recession bottomed out and our economy started on this prolonged upturn

That's a rise of only 8.9 per cent over a span of more than 5 years. In the same period the after-tax weekly earnings of a family of four headed by a worker in manufacturing have climbed 19 per cent and the after tax weekly earnings of a single worker in industry have increased 20.6 per cent

This comforting comparison is presented not in an effort to downgrade the part higher food prices have played in recent rises in our cost of living, for that would be ridiculous distortion. The reason the long term record appears so good is that food prices didn't break out sharply on the upside until late 1965 if food price increases just from late 1965 to early 1966 are considered the picture comes out drastically different and darker

Small Average

Nevertheless the fact is that over the 5-year span the average increase in food prices has been much smaller than the increase in the after tax incomes of the vast majority of American workers. The fact is that the rise in food prices has been a creep compared to the upsurge in the costs of such services as medical and personal care

What's more when you study the price movements of the individual foods listed below you will see how relatively easy it has been and is for the alert shopper to beat the averages. The price of a pound of lettuce skyrocketed 89 per cent between February 1961 and March 1966 but the price of a pound of fresh tomatoes rose only 6 per cent. The price of a pound of pork jumped 31.1 per cent in the period but the price of a pound of beef rose only 5.3. Orange and milk prices were actually lower than in early 1961

If lettuce and pork are omitted from the 11 foods the 1961-1966 price increase shrinks to a mere 2.5 per cent

Here are the spendable weekly earnings in manufacturing after taxes in the same years in this decade first for family of four then for single person: 1961 $82.18 $74.60; 1965 $96.78 $89.08; 1966 (February) $97.80 $90. The gain for the family is 19 per cent and for a single person is 20.6 per cent

In the past several weeks the rise in food prices has slowed to the point where the food price index in April advanced only 0.1 per cent the smallest increase since last November

Now if food prices will continue to reflect at least in part lower prices on the farm much of the pressure on this part of our cost of living will simply fade away

9,000 Leave With Exit Of SHAPE

Military, Civilian Personnel Stationed At French Capital

PARIS (AP) — When Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe — SHAPE leaves French soil some time before next April it will mean an exodus of 9,000 persons

SHAPE first headed by Gen Dwight D Eisenhower after the North Atlantic treaty was signed in 1949 is located just west of Paris in a temporary rambling building

Working there are 600 officers and 2,500 enlisted men from 14 countries the United States France Britain West Germany Norway Denmark Belgium Holland Portugal Luxembourg Turkey Canada, Greece and Italy

The 15th member Iceland has no military forces and is not represented

French Workers

There also are 430 civilians about 80 per cent French. Many are involved with support operations such as secretarial work bus driving and maintenance jobs

Dependents of the non French military staff total about 6,000 and some live in SHAPE Village which has 400 apartments. SHAPE Village also has a school for 1,800 pupils run by the French Education Ministry

President Charles de Gaulle has said he will withdraw the 60 remaining French officers from SHAPE by July 1. But French sources have said that the bulk of other French military and civilian personnel will be permitted to remain to help keep SHAPE operating and assist in moving when the time comes

A timetable for the move may be blocked out for review by the ministerial meeting in Brussels Belgium June 7-8. A decision may be reached then on where SHAPE will go. Most speculation centers on Brussels

Besides SHAPE headquarters located near Paris there is a secret underground command post designed to withstand atomic attack and continue to function in time of war. SHAPE officials will not discuss details

Also given moving orders by De Gaulle is Allied Forces Central Europe Headquarters at Fontainebleau. It has 2,250 military and civilian personnel

Buddhist Stronghold Taken by Ky

Antigovernment Mobs, Troops Provide No Resistance in Hue

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) Premier Nguyen Cao Ky s troops took over the Buddhist stronghold of Hue today without any resistance from the Buddhist led mobs and antigovernment troops that have held the northern city in open rebellion since mid March

The junta s forces seized Hue s radio station and other strongpoints in the city 400 miles northeast of Saigon a day after the ruling generals came to a political agreement with their Buddhist opponents in Saigon

Hue was the last territorial strongpoint of the antigovernment forces Its recapture was a major victory for Ky who has managed to stay in power with the support of his fellow generals and the United States despite the massive campaign mounted against him by the Buddhists

Unnatural Calm

After weeks of street disturbances by Buddhist youths Saigon took an unnaturally calm look However some radical Buddhist elements protested the Buddhist government compromise agreement to add 10 civilians to the ruling directorate of 10 generals

Following up its seizure on May 23 of Da Nang the other Buddhist stronghold the junta s troops swept into Hue without a shot after the departure of units of the dissident riddled 1st Vietnamese division

No opposition was reported from members of the Buddhist struggle movement there led by the monk Thich — Venerable — Tri Quang leader of the Buddhist rebellion in the north More than 1 000 students sacked and burned the U S consulate Wednesday and an adjoining consulate residence in Hue

Foreigners Evacuated

Most of the foreign civilians in the city had been evacuated but U S Consul Thomas Corcoran and a skeleton staff had taken refuge last weekend with U S military personnel at the barricaded American military compound outside the center of the old imperial capital

A major factor in the government s reassertion of authority in Hue was a pledge of loyalty to the Saigon regime by Lt Gen Nguyen Chanh Thi the powerful northern warlord and rival to Ky whose ouster March 10 as commander of the north ernmost 1st Corps gave the Buddhists an excuse for their antigovernment campaign

Ky and Thi came to a truce last week at a surprise meeting

Skepticism, Hope Result of LBJ Optimism

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) President Johnson s optimistic report that preparations for elections in South Viet Nam are moving in a sound direction aroused both hope and skepticism in Congress Thursday

Johnson told a news conference Wednesday that "while there will be missteps the direction is sound toward voting aimed at installing a civilian regime to replace the military government in Saigon

Senatorial critics and supporters of the President s Viet Nam policies joined in expressing hope that Johnson was right in saying that with reasonable unity and proper diligence and constant regard for our national interest we will achieve our objectives here — at home — and there in Viet Nam

Some Progress

Among those willing to speak out however none found quite as much encouragement as Johnson said he did by the progress of a special Vietnamese committee preparing for the election of a constitutional assembly

Armed Services Committee Chairman Richard B Russell D Ga who supports Johnson s Viet Nam policies said he thinks some progress has been made but just how substantial it is will be determined by future events

It is exceedingly difficult to have a fair expression of the country s sentiment under the conditions that exist he said

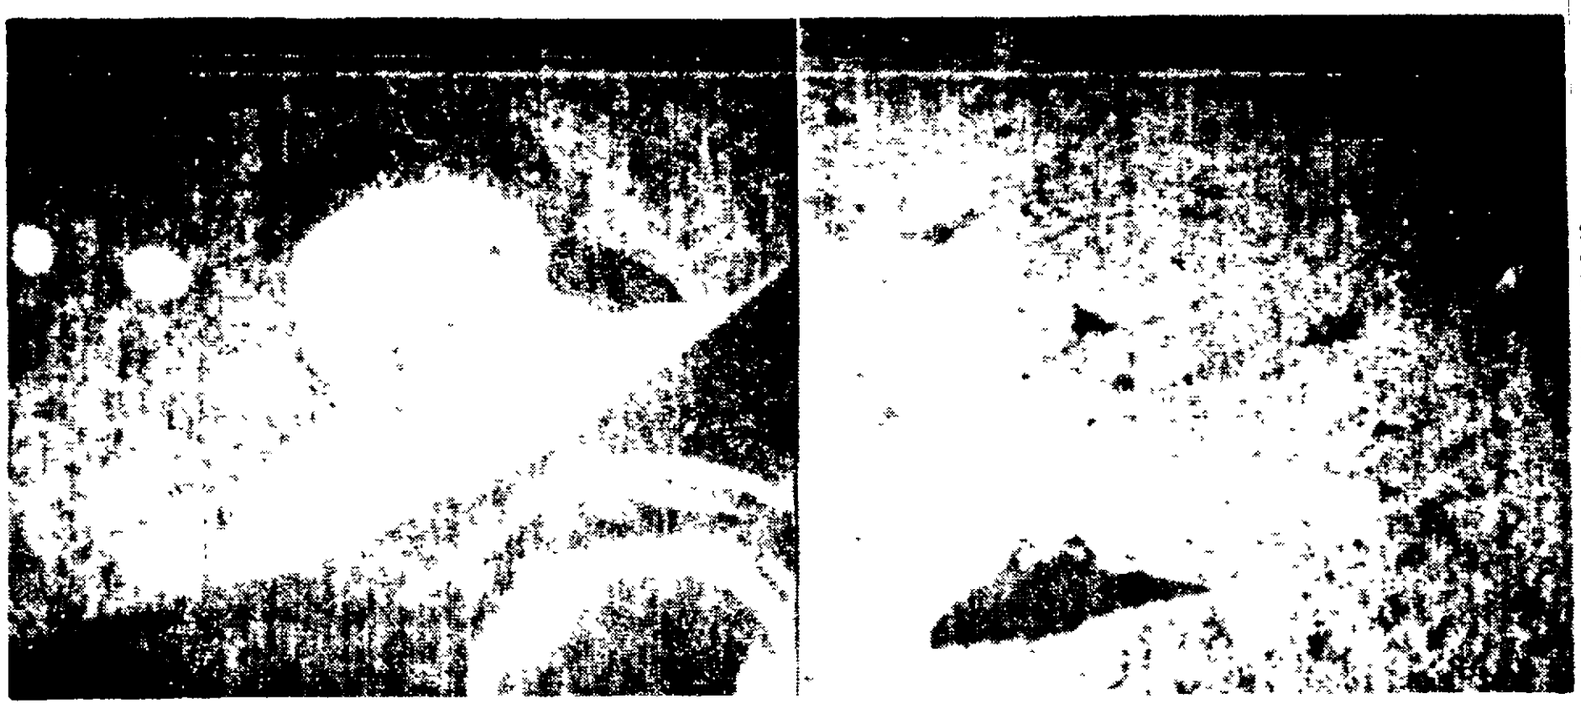

Sen Joseph S Clark D Pa a foreign relations committeeman who has criticized Johnson s course said in a separate interview I hope he s right

But I think we are in serious trouble not only in Viet Nam but all over the world he added

Johnson covered a wide vari

Pictures Returned By Device

PASADENA Calif (AP) — Surveyor 1 defying longshot odds against a first try success, televised earthward today striking photos of the lunar landscape after a seemingly perfect gentle landing on the moon

The pictures indicated to scientific viewers at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory that the Sea of Storms target area has a relatively smooth hard surface apparently suitable as a possible descent point for future astronauts

The successful touchdown executed precisely as programmed was viewed as a long stride forward for the United States' Apollo lunar exploration program Surveyor s rocket braking system is similar to that on the craft astronauts will use for a landing later in the decade

A picture series beginning at 5 45 a m EDT using a different TV screen system than that of two earlier batches showed a broad plain devoid of major features peppered with either pebbles or pits caused by meteorites There were several small prominences and some gouging as if the surface had been struck by objects from space at an angle

The pictures showed no damage to the spidery instrument-Jammed craft 10 feet high and 14 feet in diameter They showed its feet resting atop the crust — important evidence in view of opinions of some scientists that the surface might be deep dust or spongy lava that could swallow a landing vehicle

The 620 pound Surveyor planted its three legs firmly on the lunar crust at 2 17 37 a m EDT 63 hours and a quarter million miles after its launch Monday from Cape Kennedy.

Trouble Corrected In Relay System; Launch Friday

CAPE KENNEDY Fla (AP) — Dramatically successful with the unmanned Surveyor moon ship but seemingly jinxed in getting men off the ground space officials felt confident today that Gemini 9 s two disgruntled astronauts finally will rocket skyward Friday

Twice Air Force Lt Col Thomas P Stafford and Navy Lt Cmdr Eugene A Cernan have donned their fish space suits and climbed aboard their waiting spaceship but twice they ve gloomily taken the slow elevator ride back to the ground

They get another chance Friday at 9 9 a m (EDT) to set out on their 70 hour flight including satellite rendezvous and 2½ hour space walk after a frustrating two day delay

Engineers pinned the blame for the scrubbed Gemini 9 flight Wednesday on a faulty signal relay system It kept a guidance command from reaching a black box for electronic translation to the spacecraft

Faulty parts were replaced and preliminary tests indicated the problem had been solved

However flight officials still aren t certain a protective shroud around the docking apparatus on one end of the stub by bottle shaped line up target separated as planned once in orbit

Compromise Senate, Assembly

Conference Committee Resolving Bill to Combat Pollutoin in State

MADISON (AP) — A six man conference committee had the job today of resolving differences between the State Senate and Assembly on a bill to combat water pollution

The committee composed of three Democratic assemblymen and three Republican senators was handed the task Wednesday of breaking the stalemate on Gov Warren P Knowles water quality bill

The establishment of the conference committee resulted from the Democratic Assembly majority s refusal to take back its amendments to the version approved by the Republican controlled Senate

Earlier Vote

The Senate had voted earlier Wednesday not to accept the Assembly s changes

The Senate bill was essentially what was proposed by the Republican chief executive It would create a three-man water quality commission that would administer a $200 million loan program to help communities fight pollution

The commission would also absorb the water regulatory functions now in the hands of the State Board of Health and the Committee on Water Pollution and the Public Service Commission

The Assembly in a near party line vote eliminated the commission proposal from the bill

Instead it adopted a plan that would shift water quality control duties to the State Department of Resource Development

In the place of the loan program the Assembly favored creation of a $10 million state fund Up to 30 per cent of a municipality s cost of building sewage treatment plants would be financed through the grant

In another development legislators faced with a lengthening session without any expense money took steps to alter the situation

The Assembly passed 68 24 a bill that would eliminate the 110 day limit on expense allowances The limit was reached last November

The bill now goes to the Senate

The measure would allow lawmakers to collect their $16 a day allowance for the 21 days they have been in session since the limit expired They would also be able to collect for the remaining days of the spring meeting

Ban Bingo

Legislative action was completed on a bill that would ban tavern and grocery store bingo games that have flourished since Wisconsin ended its constitutional prohibition on lotteries last spring

The Senate approved the measure and sent it to the governor who has indicated he would sign it

The bill would outlaw games that require a person to go into a store to participate

The Assembly slightly reduced

Balaguer Claims Victory Over Bosch

SANTO DOMINGO Dominican Republic (AP) Amid scenes of wild jubilation headquarters of conservative Joaquin Balaguer claimed today a smashing victory over former President Juan Bosch in Dominican elections which are likely to open a new page in this island nation s history

Dr Jose A Quesada private secretary to the Reform party candidate predicted that Bosch standard bearer of the Dominican Revolutionary party would be beaten by a 2 1 margin when all returns are in

A heavy vote piled up in the conservative minded rural areas for Balaguer who served as vice president under dictator Rafael Trujillo and as president after Trujillo s assassination

The vote was interpreted by some observers as a protest in general against the sort of violence which erupted in civil war and U S military intervention last year and a longing for tranquility

Even in Santo Domingo Bosch s stronghold when he won by a landslide in 1963—only to be ousted by a military coup seven months later—Bosch was badly hurt He failed even to capture one area in the heart of the section held by armed rebels in the nation s civil war

A third candidate Rafael F Bonelly was far behind.

Favor Bosch

Pre election forecasts had generally favored Bosch in a tight race The 57 year-old professor politician s Dominican Revolutionary party had the support of leftist elements

Bosch became the country's first democratically elected president by a landslide in 1962 Balaguer vice president under dictator Rafael Trujillo was the candidate of the Reform party He served as president after Trujillo's assassination

The central issue in the election seemed to be the restoration of democratic rule in a nation which had only seven months of it in the last 36 years

Outagamie Will Borrow $600,000 for New Runway

Board Okays Action to Pay County Share

Without a single dissenting vote the Outagamie County Board Wednesday voted to borrow $600 000 to help pay the county's share in the construction of a new 7 200 by 150 foot runway at the county airport

In total the board approved a construction project which will cost $1 070 000 However federal and state funds plus cash remaining from the county's original airport bond issue lowered the actual present need to $631 400 The total was lowered to $600 000 because the county will apply $31 400 in accumulated interest from investments

The vote on today's resolution was 44 to 0 with the supervisor R Clayton VanDyke of Kaukauna voting present

Other Provisions

In addition to the new runway the resolution provides for building the first segment of what eventually will be a 75 foot taxiway to parallel the new runway The taxiway would run from the southeast end of the new runway and intersect with the present runway It also would run from the northwest end of the new runway to a point where a new taxiway will connect to the airport apron area The funds also will provide for a concrete apron in front of a new Air Wisconsin hangar and high intensity lights for the new runway

J E Donoghue president of the Ralph H Burke Co Inc Park Ridge Ill the county's airport design and engineering consultant explained that the recent grant of $45 600 from the Federal Aviation Agency included $40 500 for its share of land programmed in the new construction program It also included $5 100 for construction of a 2 000 by 100 foot runway and a taxiway system

Donoghue explained however that the $5 5 100 was appropriated by the FAA on the basis of estimated construction costs in 1964 when Outagamie County originally applied for aid Construction costs particularly in electrical areas have risen considerably since that time he said and the FAA programmed projects have gone up by about $200 000

Office Has Power

As a result he explained the FAA's Minneapolis regional office has the power to increase its allocation by as much as 20 per cent to take in increased construction costs If there are sufficient funds left in the region Donoghue explained there is no need to get approval from FAA headquarters in Washington An additional $91 000 could be allocated out of the Minneapolis office

It also was announced again today that the county will immediately apply for more federal aid to lengthen the new runway Donoghue said there are reasons to believe the runway should be 7 000 feet long Exactly how long it should be he said would be determined in the course of a hearing the Wisconsin State Aeronautics Commission would conduct as part of federal and state aid application Deadline for applications to be included in the FAA's 1967 program is July 15

It was necessary for the

How One War Was Ended

A funny thing happened at Kuala Lampur the other day

A group of men had a meeting and decided to call off a war

The participants were government representatives from Malaysia and Indonesia They embraced when they met and then sat down to discuss their differences and how to settle them Everybody involved, with the exception of the president of Indonesia and his Communist prodders breathed a happy sigh of relief It seems there really weren't any differences

The fracas between Indonesia and Malaysia was purely Sukarno's war and there could be no more obvious evidence than the meeting last week Sukarno still the nominal head of state in Jakarta had told his foreign minister he was forbidden to leave the country in an obvious attempt to stall off the peace negotiations But the delegates took the trip anyway and Sukarno has merely said that he is not saying anything now but the day will come In the meantime in spite of Sukarno's opposition the settlement will be made

It has been apparent for months that the conflict was primarily, perhaps only, Sukarno's doing He would 'Crush Malaysia' But he never did drum up much enthusiasm among his countrymen except the members of the PKI the Indonesian Communist Party There were some border skirmishes a few bodies some loot some triumphs But Malaysia did not react by calling in thousands of British soldiers And Malaysia continued on its healthy economic and political path

But this certainly was a war that could have been It was backed by the Communists keeping as quiet as they could but hoping to drive the British influence out of Asia It was proclaimed by a man who wanted power and influence and glory for himself but who had not a very clear idea of how to go about being a true leader Had the British reacted violently had not the Indonesian Army risen up against Sukarno and his red advisors this could have been another Viet Nam with a bloody long drawn out conflict between two Asian nations and their outside sponsors

Obviously all wars cannot be called off by demoting the chief of staff

But it should give one pause for thought.

'There, but for the grace of the USIA library. . .'

The Loss of Bob Bues

Appleton is losing a most capable and conscientious departmental administrator with the resignation of Public Works Director Robert W Bues

Bues who came here from Rhinelander in 1962 with impressive credentials and a reputation for getting the job done is quitting his $13,000 a year job for 'personal reasons'

Since assuming the reins of the city's largest and most important department more than three years ago Bues has been instrumental in improving municipal services reorganizing the overall public works setup obtaining much needed equipment for municipal employes to do a better job directed multi million dollar public works improvements such as providing much of the central city with new underground utilities to eliminate flooding pushed for construction of a badly needed new municipal garage recommended changes in some bidding practices that saved the city untold thousands of dollars and gave his technical advice and personal support to projects and programs that generally were for the welfare of the entire city

In conferences with city officials, citizens coming to city hall for information or to air a complaint Bues has always been cooperative in giving the best explanation possible He has demonstrated by his actions and dedication to getting things done sometimes in the face of political and citizen pressures that his work made for a better Appleton

We offer congratulations to Bues for a job well done commend him for agreeing to remain on the job until mid July and wish him success in his future undertaking

Tax Exemptions for Religious Properties

The United States Supreme Court has been asked to review a decision in a Maryland court that is bound to be as controversial as the school prayer issue

Madalyn Murray O'Hair the same woman who instituted one of the prayer and Bible reading cases charged that the Maryland tax exemption for religious properties similar to that of most states was unconstitutional because of the First Amendment's guarantee of separation of church and state The exemption amounted to state support of religion she said and also raised the tax burdens of everyone else

But the Maryland court decided against Mrs O'Hair The judge conceded that the exemptions were essentially gifts of a sort to the religious organizations Economically they are in the same position as though they paid taxes to the city and state and then received back the amounts paid in the form of direct grant But the religious organizations made contributions to the general welfare which justified the grants according to the judge Activities 'of substantial benefit to the community such as aid to the poor and aged day nurseries care of the sick and efforts to eliminate racial inequalities made the tax exemptions reasonable

The Supreme Court is being asked to review the case as far as the United States Constitution is concerned Its decision on school prayers and Bible reading had nothing to do with whether such activities were wholesome or advantageous but whether they injected a tie between church and state considered to be unacceptable according to the First Amendment If the Court decides not to review the case or determines that the Maryland tax exemptions do not violate the First Amendment there is still a problem for many states which have differing types of constitutional restrictions

Wisconsin's relevant section which guarantees freedom of worship and liberty of conscience also states that there shall never be any preference be given by law to any religious establishments or modes of worship nor shall any money be drawn from the treasury for the benefit of religious societies or religious or theological seminaries This has been interpreted by at least two attorney generals as grounds for questioning released time for religious education by the public schools on the grounds that the schools could not become involved administratively in any way with such practices The state of Wisconsin exempts from general property taxes all religious institutions but it grants such exemptions to a variety of other properties as well including all educational institutions nonprofit hospitals military property cemeteries community centers, art galleries farm organization property and that controlled by such organizations as the Boy and Girl Scouts and the YMCA and the YWCA

If the Maryland judge's interpretation is upheld that such tax exemptions are indeed direct grants it is difficult to see how this is not a violation of the Wisconsin constitution Presumably an amendment would change the situation as far as the Wisconsin constitution is concerned But if the United States Supreme Court should decide that such tax exemptions are a violation of the First Amendment a great many changes will have to be made

Kraft Writes

Ky Regime in Viet Nam Can't Win War or Pacify the Country, View

BY JOSEPH KRAFT

WASHINGTON -- Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky's show of force in Da Nang and Hue has been hailed by his admirers in the Saigon embassy the State Department and the press as a great success But for whom?

Kraft

Not certainly for the United States For the chief result of the recent events is to identify the American stake even more closely with the fate of the Ky regime But whatever its immediate ups and downs the Ky government is a no exit government -- a government without a future

It cannot fight a war Still less can it pacify the country in the wake of American military success Least of all can it work out an agreement with the other side

The basic weakness of the Ky regime is that it is not a government so much as a ramshackle collection of opportunists who have risen to the top through a crazy succession of military coups Far from working together in accord on government business the chief military figures in the regime tend to pursue their own private and local interests And nothing shows it better than the basic military command built around the four army corps

THE FOUR CORPS

The 3rd Corps around Saigon because of its proximity to the capital has in general been responsive to central direction But the 1st Corps has been mainly taken up one way or another with the Buddhists The 4th Corps, in the rich delta region has been largely a fief for the accumulation of personal fortunes The 2nd Corps embracing the highland district, the scene of most of the American military activity, has been much the same

In these circumstances morale in the Vietnamese army has steadily sunk Desertions which are mainly cases of men going home, have been running at the rate of at least 7,500 per month The capacity and interest of the Vietnamese army in fighting the war has dropped accordingly And thus it happens that Americans are doing most of the fighting and now absorbing most of the casualties

The weaknesses that debar the Ky regime for waging the war effectively are even more critical when it comes to pacification For pacification involves chiefly winning the confidence of local people through civil police actions and social reforms

But the Ky regime after the fashion of most military regimes, has only contempt for the civil police function, the police remain among the poorest paid and worst trained officials in South Viet Nam As to social reforms, they are constantly being obstructed and diluted by the corruption endemic in the regime The true condition of social reform is the one thing the Ky regime seems unable to admit -- that is a freely elected civil government with popular support

VIET CONG IS HOPEFUL

Lastly with respect to wrapping the war up through negotiations the Ky regime is going so poorly in fighting and in pacification that the insurgents are bound to believe that time is working on their side The transparent ineptitude of the regime in other words, can only encourage the rebels to step up their activities the more so as they must now see the prospect of enlisting some of the Buddhists

Moreover even if the time came when the other side was ready to negotiate the Ky regime would constitute an insuperable obstacle to talks Most of its leading members, including Marshal Ky himself fail to pass the acid test of nationalism In the Indochinese struggle for independence they fought with the French against their own people It's not thinkable that the Viet Cong or Hanoi or Peking would deal with such men

In these circumstances it is sheer folly for American officials to celebrate Marshal Ky's victories and to imagine that some glowing future presents itself The fact is that Marshal Ky's victories are American defeats The American interest at this juncture is to take distances from Marshal Ky while searching for occasions to promote a shuffle in the Saigon government The truth is that so long as the Ky regime stays in power, for so long the United States will be obliged to intensify its own war effort

Fenians Reap Bitter Harvest

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for June 9 1866

The Fenian leaders at Buffalo and a considerable portion of their followers are reaping a bitter harvest

Warrants have been issued for the apprehension of all officers concerned in the recent movement into Canada and their seizure under the act of 1818 is only delayed by the necessity of consulting with the Department at Washington as to some technicalities

At the same time we hear sad accounts from the other side of the lake where it is thought a score or more of the raiders already have been shot down without due process of law, or even a court martial

The whole number of prisoners in the hands of Canadian authorities is not thought to exceed 100, of whom half are unoffending Canadian citizens.

25 YEARS AGO

Miss Hedwig Koepsel was elected president of the Appleton Homemakers Club Other officers were Mrs Paul Clary vice president Mrs C J Gee, secretary and Mrs Henry Bauer, treasurer Mrs William Hallada displayed her collection of pot holders from all over the world as part of the program.

Fish Wins First Test As Republican Chief At State Convention

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The Republican politician with the unlikely name of Ody Fish has survived his first important test as a political manager in the ratification of his brisk command tactics by the delegates in the recent Republican state convention at Milwaukee

Wyngaard

Fish is the man who had decided that radical surgery was required to improve the performance of the long limping Milwaukee County branch of the voluntary committee organization Elections statewide are won or lost in Milwaukee County, as the Democrats have shrewdly recognized in their recent emphasis upon organization and related work in the heavily populated metropolis As the politicians of Republican persuasion have been ever more demoralizingly defeated there in recent years (one of the major claims for the candidacy of Louis Cecil for attorney general on the Republican ticket was the circumstance that he is the only Republican now holding elective office in the City of Milwaukee) their leaders have tended to retreat into an ever more belligerent conservatism

Lately there have been signs of the emergence in Republican Party affairs in Milwaukee County of the bitter end ideological right wingers who are on the run everywhere in the country where younger and more pragmatic leaders are moving into the party and where they feel they have a chance to win office with more modern 'mainstream' thinking

PRACTICAL QUESTIONS

As the quarrel between Fish (backed by Gov Knowles and the Milwaukee party captains) developed it was concerned largely with pragmatic question Was the organization effective? Was it doing its best to get out the vote to recruit cadres to raise money and in the performance of the other chore which is its excuse for being?

Fish acted to abolish the organization and to set up a new de facto county machine five months ago on the basis of technical and practical factors as he explained at length and repeatedly

But as the resentments among the Old Guard conservatives grew and the signs of revolt to the convention became too clear to be ignored, Fish and his cohorts prepared for a showdown It came at the convention, perhaps not as clearly as the academic political critic would have wished, but clearly enough so that nobody in the hall or in the press gallery had any real doubt about what was going on The result was a 4 to 1 vote of support for the administration, in a manner of speaking or ratification of Fish's decision, obviously backed up as it was by Gov Knowles the leader of the 1966 party ticket without whose success the party cannot hope to prosper in the fall

THE MARGIN

The record showed about 700 dissenters which is a respectable number Perhaps if the party chairman had asked for a vote of confidence in himself — without regard to the reverberations in the Knowles campaign and the morale of the party effort generally in a critical year — there would have been more rebellious votes For in a party of proud men the cancellation of a local party charter and the repudiation of its chosen officers is a radical thing

It is significant in this connection that Fish viewed the revolt seriously He thought that a minimum he would lose 600 delegates on a roll call involving his stewardship Actually he had told friends that he feared the vote against him might be higher He could have avoided the fight through his control of the credentials committee Knowles could have made peace with a gesture They chose the showdown deliberately and with a full knowledge of the risk

The reason was that they believed rightly or wrongly that they were nipping the bud of a right to revolt that permitted to develop without resistance would likely take over the party structure two years hence They had studied reports from other states where the ultra right militants had succeeded in such maneuvers

It is rare for a party chairman and a governor to work in such close harness It is equally rare for such threatening defections to develop Whether the Milwaukee County machinery this year will be effective for the Republican remains to be shown What has been shown is that the Knowles Fish team is in undisputed control of the campaign

Legislators Use Low Number Bids As Patronage Prize

Post Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Members of the Wisconsin Assembly groaned loudly this week as a young Milwaukee assemblyman blurted out one of the trade secrets of legislative politics.

The low or otherwise special automobile license number obtainable from the State Motor Vehicle Department disclosed Assemblyman Frederick Kessler D-Milwaukee is one of the few and therefore prized forms of patronage available to the statehouse politician to deserving constituents or loyal campaign workers.

Kessler was objecting to the request of the department to assess a $3 fee above the regular price for such special number requests that are granted. But the Assembly in a top heavy vote endorsed the bill nevertheless and dispatched it to the State Senate where its destiny is in doubt. The legislature is expected to recess again soon leaving many of such measures in midpassage.

Added Handling Costs

The state department proposes thousands of special number requests each year and reports that the handling of such work entails additional costs. The special fee suggested in the bill sent over to the senate would be $3 a year without any assurance to applicants that they will be able to buy the numerals they want.

After Kessler's objection another lower house member protested that anybody can make an application for such favors on a first come first served basis in an assertion which is confirmed by the department administrators.

But Kessler's apparent meaning was that legislators now find it advantageous politically to intervene for their constituents in such situations and that the fee assessment would make such favors less impressive to the beneficiaries.

Some capitol sources said the fate of the fee bill in the legislature's upper house may be uncertain because of a long standing custom of automatic issuance of special numbers to the senators. They are eligible by courtesy of the department for numbers on the autopilot corresponding to the number of their senate district if they desire them.

Forest Junction Youth Hurt in Highway Crash

MENASHA — Donald R. Ott 16 Forest Junction complained of a sore chest after being involved in a collision with a car driven by an Appleton man Wednesday night in the Town of Menasha.

Ott was driving east on State 114 about 10:30 p.m. when a car operated by Virgil M. Van Asten 21 1214 E. Fremont St. Appleton pulled out from an intersection at Waverly Beach Road. Ott was advised to see a doctor.

Damage to the vehicles was listed in excess of $200. Van Asten was cited by the Winnebago County sheriff's department for failure to yield at a stop sign.

Vocational Schools Seek Site Approval

Assemblyman Martin Sought Four Additional Locations

Post Crescent Staff Writer

RACINE — The state Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CCHE) will receive a recommendation today that it give provisional approval to a plan for creation of 15 state vocational institutes area districts despite strong pleas from Assemblyman David Martin R-Neenah that a 19 district plan be accepted instead.

The 15 district plan drafted by a special study committee of state vocational and administrative analysts was approved by the State Board of Vocational Technical and Adult Education May 24.

Martin an author of the legislation of the past session which called for the creation by 1970 of the new districts each containing a state and locally supported vocational institute told the CCHE plans and policies subcommittee meeting Wednesday that it was not the attempt of the legislature in passing that law to allow the creation of so few districts.

Travel Distances

Such a low number he said would make it necessary for students at the new institutions to either travel long distances to school in some areas of the state or possibly to be forced to split their schedules from day to day between base and satellite institutions separated by many miles.

He said that the legislature while passing the district enabling legislation had been shown a 1963 plan of the state vocational board calling for 19 districts.

He urged that a proposal prepared and then rejected by the study committees which drafted the new plan calling for 19 districts be accepted in place of the 15 area district plan.

100 Miles

The 19 district plan was developed insuring that the length and breadth of the districts would not exceed 100 miles. No distance considerations were made in drawing the 15 district plan.

He said that one of the determining criteria used in favor of the 15 district plan was not necessarily important or accurate. The criterion indicated required that an area district have at least 780 full time vocational school students graduating from an area high school graduate population of 5,000.

Martin said that university centers used for years thrived on student enrollments considerably lower than the 780 figure and that the vocational schools should be given a chance that they could as well.

High School Percentage

He added that a figure of 1% per cent of the high school graduates entering vocational school in 1970 used by the study committee might not be accurate as well. The presidents of the Wausau and Rhinelander high school enrollment figures cited by Martin showed considerably higher than that.

He said that additional emphasis placed on vocational education in the future will also lead to higher enrollment ever [illegible].

The 19 district plan he proposed would provide [illegible] that tax base portion of the districts and the cost of the plan for the 15 district system.

The 15 district plan includes one in Superior Eau Claire La Crosse Madison Janesville Beloit Fond du Lac Sheboygan Manitowoc Stevens Point Marinette Oshkosh Appleton Green Bay Wausau and Wisconsin Rapids-Stevens Point.

Added Sites

The 19 district plan supported by Martin would add sites at Eagle River Manitowoc and Marinette.

Others who appeared before the committee included Joseph Noll of the state vocational board who suggested that even the 15 districts might be too many to insure quality education at the high school. Staffing the institutions will be a major problem he said and perhaps the state can do only five comprehensive institutions such as already exist at Madison and Milwaukee he suggested.

Former Governor Walter Kohler Jr. CCHE chairman pointed out that any committee approval now of the 15 district plan would only be provisional. Changes can still be made he said after the completion of a series of public hearings around the state during the remainder of the year to discuss that plan.

The committee voted with [illegible] to recommend that CCHE give preliminary backing to the 15 district plan.

Committee Resolving Water Bills

the total of a university faculty salary increase for the fiscal year beginning July 1, but still left the raises at more than $1.5 million.

The vote sending the bill to the Senate was 65-29.

UW Funds

The University of Wisconsin would receive $1,052,000 and the nine state universities $473,000, an increase of 2.6 per cent over the 6 per cent originally appropriated.

The bill includes only $125,000 in new funds, half the amount recommended by the Joint Finance Committee.

The remaining $1.4 million would come from a transfer of funds already allotted to the two systems.

The Senate earlier approved the measure with a $1.5 million price tag.

Passage Blocked

Final passage was temporarily blocked.

Passed and sent to the governor by the Assembly was a bill providing for $4,000 annual pay increase for county judges elected before Sept. 5, 1965.

The Legislature approved a similar proposal last fall but it affected only those judges elected after Sept. 5.

The measure would set the minimum salary at $17,500 a year with counties having the option of supplementing that amount.

The Senate also:

Sustained the governor's veto of a bill allowing county and municipal employes to organize an agency shop.

Adopted and sent to the governor a bill transferring to the State Conservation Commission 4,456 acres of the abandoned Bong Air Force Base in Racine and Kenosha counties. The land would be converted into a wildlife preserve.

Killed a measure supported by Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette that would have strengthened state laws on labeling and packaging consumer products.

ety of subjects in his Cabinet room meeting with reporters, including an expression of satisfaction with the course of the national economy and the pace with which Congress is dealing with his legislative programs. On other matters, he:

—Complained that he doesn't see in the newspapers the kind of "in depth reporting" he would like to have on political progress in South Viet Nam.

—Said he rather agrees with the view of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen that leaders of both parties should be briefed on Viet Nam developments. He said he had talked to Dirksen twice in the last few weeks.

—Reported that the U. S. program of dealing with France's forthcoming withdrawal of troops from NATO "is going very well and as expected and according to schedule."

France to Shanghai Flights Announced

PARIS (AP) — France and Communist China have announced an agreement to establish regular air transport service between Paris and Shanghai.

The agreement was signed at the foreign ministry after negotiations which had begun here May 9.

Under the agreement, lines designated by the French and Red Chinese governments will fly the route.

The French carrier undoubtedly will be Air France, the government company. The Communist Chinese National Airline most probably will fly for Red China.

Body of Boy, 2, Found in Watertown

WATERTOWN (AP) — The body of 2-year-old Rickey Broesch, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Broesch, was recovered from the Rock River Wednesday night, about a block from the boy's rural home east of here.

Jefferson County Coroner Ewald Reighert said the boy accidentally fell into the river, which runs behind his home.

A search for the youngster was started when his parents reported him missing Tuesday evening.

Sister M. Carol Bitz, a Member of the Mt. Angel College, Ore., science faculty, is with some of the equipment used to determine the chemical makeup of rocks. She has been named to a laboratory team for NASA that will analyze rock samples from the moon — when the Apollo mission brings them back. Sister Carol was credited with a significant discovery of how to determine the makeup of meteorites while she was at Fordham University in 1962. (AP Wirephoto) here — that the landing was firm enough, however, to cause one foot to make a slight contact depression.

A shadow around the edge of one of the two feet within range of the camera indicated the depression was quite shallow — perhaps two inches, the spokesman said.

The camera was shut down when the earth's rotation blocked signals to Goldstone and officials said no further pictures were expected until 11:30 p.m. when Goldstone again is in position to receive. Tracking stations at Canberra, Madrid and Johannesburg were to make engineering checks with surveyor.

Its crucial terminal sequence — a cartwheel in space to point its feet moonward, then at 60 miles out a blast from its powerful retro-rocket engine to slow to landing speed of 8 m.p.h. — ended with all instruments apparently functioning.

Later Pictures

Thirty-five minutes later, it began televising pictures sent nationwide and overseas by three networks, employing the Early Bird satellite.

The first batch of three showed a leg and other portions, with the lunar surface in the background.

There was nothing to hint of danger to future manned landing craft.

A second batch of 10 showed more distant terrain — flat and featureless, except for a shadow, apparently that of the spacecraft, in the shape of a tree, and what appeared to be a large rock.

The first two series, televised with 200 scan lines compared to 525 for a home screen, were dim and fuzzy and difficult to interpret.

Pictures Clearer

Later shots with 600 scan lines — Surveyor is expected to return hundreds before the chill of the lunar night ends its life 12 days hence — were far clearer.

The third sequence of about 30 better quality pictures — though some of these were fuzzy, too — were flashed on a TV screen for brief periods less than a minute apart. They were made as the camera, mounted vertically on Surveyor's frame, swiveled about.

They gave further views of parts of the spacecraft, and looked anew at the large rock pictured earlier. "Large" is relative. It appeared no larger than 8 to 10 inches across. Long shots looking out over the landscape added no new details.

Further transmissions continued at intervals into the day — a bewildering variety of close and long shots of Surveyor and its new neighborhood.

Pictures blinked onto the laboratory's viewing screen at three-second intervals, affording just flash views to viewers. Additional shots toward the foot of the craft showed surface areas that appeared soft and fuzzy, others that appeared almost like dry mud with cracks, still others that seemed littered with fine debris having sharp edges. In one a white spot showing on the horizon was explained as sun glare on the camera lens.

Pictures Recorded

All pictures in addition to being televised were recorded on tape and film. Photographic prints available later were expected to be considerably sharper than the TV versions.

Some shots were expected to be better in quality, experts say, than the nine pictures sent back by the Soviet Union's Luna 9 last Feb. 3.

Surveyor's feat was regarded as a significant advance over Luna 9, which finally scored after at least four failures. The Soviet craft was a 200-pound shock resistant ball containing a camera.

It apparently was ejected several hundred feet above the surface from a carrier vehicle equipped with small retro-rockets. U.S. scientists said its impact probably would kill a man.

Main Rocket

Surveyor's main rocket and three guidance rockets slowed its 620 pounds to an estimated 8 miles per hour, then it dropped 14 feet to the surface. Shock absorbers and crushable pads cushioned it. Experts said it apparently was stable all the way down as it balanced on a tongue of flame.

So perfect was the guidance that the landing was within feet of the predicted impact point in the Sea of Storms, a broad dry plain near the western edge of the face of the moon, just south of the lunar equator. It is one of several areas considered as Apollo descent points.

The first picture showed a leg and foot on the soil, snapped as the camera pointed downward in self-examination. The second showed an antenna and beyond that the more distant surface. The third showed a leg, in better focus, resting entirely atop the crust.

Second Sequence

The second sequence showed an antenna boom and part of the aluminum tubing frame. Then followed others showing a murky landscape, dim and fuzzy and the surface looking gravelly. Some shots showed a distant horizon, with no major features.

The success, which brought shouts of joy from workers assembled at the laboratory, will launch a seven-shot series of Surveyors over 18 months in a style few had dared hope for.

One project official had called Surveyor "probably more difficult and complex than anything yet attempted in space by anyone."

Seven shots were scheduled because the chances of success were so slim. Presumably later shots will aim at different possible manned landing areas. Surveyor's ground shots then will be compared with those from the upcoming Orbiter series, which will make photos as a spacecraft skims as close as 29 miles to the surface and on the basis of this an Apollo site will be selected.

Sea of Storms

Telescopic pictures from Earth show the Sea of Storms landing area as a hundred-mile-diameter plain ringed with ridges. In the southern portion is 1,800-foot high Flamsteed crater. Just north of it is Surveyor's resting place.

One expert at the laboratory, which controlled the flight, said after seeing the pictures: "It looks like they prepared a landing field for us."

He added that one shot made the surface look "like rought asphalt, but it's still pretty smooth. I'll bet the scientists who predicted a heavy layer of dust on the moon are committing hari-kari about now."

Dr. Harold Urey, Nobel Prize-winning physicist who viewed the pictures but is not connected with the laboratory, told newsmen, speaking of the surface:

"If it is finely divided material, it looks as if it is sand in a vacuum, well packed down. My theory is that if it is sand in a vacuum, it can be walked on very safely."

Buddhist Stronghold Taken by Ky

arranged by the United States at the U.S. Marine base at Chu Lai, south of Da Nang.

About 1,000 persons milled around the Buddhist Institute in Saigon today, but so far there was no attempt to stage new demonstrations. However, the U.S. Armed Forces Radio warned all Americans "to use caution in moving about the city" and heed the nightly curfew from 8:30 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Buddhist crowds reacted angrily to the announcement of the compromise formula Wednesday night. A mob of youths burned an effigy of President Johnson.

The agreement came after two meetings of the ruling junta and representatives of the Buddhist Institute at Saigon's Gia Long palace. The chief provision was that 10 civilians would be named by "mass organizations, religions and political parties" to the 10-man ruling directorate by Sunday.

New Chairman

It also called for election of a new junta chairman next Monday. The present chairman is Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the Roman Catholic chief of state who with Ky has been a chief target of Buddhist protests.

The enlarged junta — or directorate — is also to name a "people's and armed forces council" before June 19 to help the present war cabinet until a civilian government takes over. The junta has pledged election of a constituent assembly on Sept. 11 to draft a constitution and clear the way for a civilian regime.
